ORANGE COUNTY MAY GET FACTORY TO BUILD NEW TYPE OF AIRSHIP

May Call $250,000,000 Water Bond Election This Fall

SANTA ANA'S SHARE TO BE $2,000,000

Plans of Metropolitan Water District Explained To Members of Council

FINLEY IN REPORT

One of Three District Reservoirs May Be Placed In Upper Brea Canyon

THE METROPOLITAN water district in all probability will call an election this fall to vote on an issue of approximately $250,000,000 for the aqueduct in which it is proposed to bring into Southern California water from the Colorado river, Col. S. H. Finley, secretary of the district, informed members of the city council at an informal conference of members late yesterday afternoon.

Finley represented the city at a meeting in Los Angeles recently at which was discussed the advisability of communities in the district delegating to one person authority to deal with a representative of the interior secretary, Dr. Lyman Wilbur, in negotiations for power that will be developed at the river. The council directed preparation of a letter authorizing F. D. Scattergood, head of the light and power department of the city of Los Angeles, to act as such a representative. It is anticipated other cities will take similar action at once, as the government man is expected to be in Southern California within a few weeks.

It is estimated that Santa Ana's share of the cost of the big project will be $2,000,000, or less than $100 per capita, with possibility of the per capita ratio being reduced by half by the time water from the river is available for distribution to Southern California communities. It was pointed out that on the present city valuation the high point of the tax rate would approximate 90 cents on the $100 assessed.

FIVE ARMY PLANES ARRIVE IN NORTH

SACRAMENTO, March 4.—(UP)—With the arrival of five army transport planes from San Diego, to be used in ferrying men and supplies, preparations for the greatest aerial maneuvers ever held on the Pacific coast were under way here today.

Lieutenant C. P. Kane, of Rockwell field, San Diego, will be stationed at Mather field for the remainder of this month as supply officer for aeronautical equipment, it was announced.

Mather field buildings are being repaired under direction of Lieutenant R. G. Rogers, of Crissy field, San Francisco, in preparation for the 400 United States army flyers who will participate in the maneuvers.

Council Told There Are Too Many In City and Owners Losing Money

HAS THE city council the legal right to tell a property owner that he cannot derive revenue from property by renting it for use by an oil station, and can the body tell a man who wants to enter that line of business that he cannot do so, even though the council believes his enterprise will result in failure?

This is the problem put squarely up to the city council at an informal meeting late yesterday afternoon, by a group of local station owners, who asked the council if some action could not be taken that would limit the number of stations per 1000 population or that would prevent an increase in the number of places in the city serving gasoline and oils.

Don Jerome, Paul Witmer, Eerie Wilcox and John Dowling represented the station owners in an appeal to the council for some kind of action that would curb the opening of more stations.

As spokesman, Jerome pointed out that there are in Santa Ana 169 places dispensing gasoline, 104 of which are stations. Estimating the average daily consumption of one gallon of fuel per car, the station owner commented on the fact that the 11,400 cars in Santa Ana consumed enough gas each day to make an average of 63 gallons a day for each place selling fuel.

Asserting that the property owner who leases to an oil station man is the only person in the transaction who profits by the deal, the station owners declared in unison that operators were going "broke" every day, with some losing their all in an attempt to establish themselves in a line of business where there is little possibility of success because of the numerous places where fuel can be purchased.

MRS. PANTAGES SUE FOR $893 BY LAWYER

LOS ANGELES, March 4.—(UP)—An action believed to have been connected with secret plans of Mrs. Lois Pantages to divorce Alexander Pantages, theater manager, three years ago, was scheduled for superior court here today.

Mrs. Pantages was to appear in court to defend a $893 suit brought by Joseph Sweeney, attorney, said to have worked for her at the time she assertedly planned the action.

The attorney claims he incurred $1893 working for Mrs. Pantages and alleges he was paid $1000 before Mrs. Pantages changed her mind in May, 1927. She is claimed to have refused to pay the balance.

RUSSIA BANISHES RABBI TO SIBERIA

CHICAGO, March 4.—(UP)—Relatives of Rabbi Katzenelenbogen, spiritual leader of 50,000 Jews in Leningrad, Russia, learned today that the 80-year-old patriarch had been banished to Siberia.

The chief rabbi was sentenced to exile in the "coldest and farthest part of Siberia" because of his counter revolutionary activities. It was announced by S. B. Komaiko, member of a committee raising funds here for relief of rabbis in Russia.

The late Rabbi Simon H. Album, of Chicago, was a brother of Rabbi Katzenelenbogen.

GOODWILL TRIP TO MEXICO IS CHAMBER PLAN

Associated Body to Recommend Journey During Annual Meeting

AN ORANGE county goodwill trip to Mexico City, via the new Southern Pacific West Coast route, is suggested for next fall by the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the county, following a meeting of the advisory committee at the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce office last evening. The tentative proposed dates are Nov. 29 to Dec. 14.

The advisory committee, headed by Harry Hale of Placentia, expects to recommend at the next meeting of the Associated, which is the annual meeting and will be held in Santa Ana March 25, that the plan be carried out and that a committee of five secretaries of chambers in the county be named to put the proposition over.

The secretaries' committee proposed is George Raymer of Santa Ana, chairman; V. D. Johnson of Orange, H. M. May of Fullerton, Tom Pickrell of Placentia and G. C. Macleod, secretary of the Newport Harbor chamber and of the Associated. If the recommendation is adopted, as expected, these secretaries plan to ask all other secretaries in the county to cooperate with them.

J. B. Valla and W. Sharples of the Southern Pacific attended last night's meeting and stated tentatively that a 15-day trip could be made, going and returning via the West Coast route, for an average of $235.50 for 125 people, 25 to a car. This would cover fare, meals and Pullman for all of the 15 days, including meals at stopover points. A longer trip or one returning by another route would cost slightly more, as would a train with fewer people on each car. However, a minimum of 125 is required.

Stops are proposed at such places as Phoenix and Tucson in Arizona, and Hermosillo, Guaymas, Mazatlan, Tepic, Guadalajara, Mexico City and other points in Mexico. Others at last night's meeting were H. A. Lake of Garden Grove and J. P. Greeley of Balboa. Several at the meeting said they would make the trip.

CHICAGO WORKERS GET CHECKS TODAY

CHICAGO, March 4.—(UP)—Chicago, a colossal city still suffering growing pains, celebrated its 93rd birthday today by issuing overdue paychecks to policemen, firemen, school teachers and other public employees.

Red tape held up the issuance of back salary yesterday and only some 4000 city workers were paid. Checks were ready for the other 40,000 today.

The city's birthday anniversary was a gala day for workers, who for weeks have been facing hardship and want because the city's financial difficulties made money for payrolls unobtainable.

TAFT RECALLS INAUGURATION 21 YEARS AGO

Former Chief Executive Is Making Gallant Fight At Death's Door

WASHINGTON, March 4.—(UP)—Memories of a day 21 years ago when he was hailed as president of the United States flickered today in the mind of a weary old man who held back the door of death to relive a dream that came true.

Reminiscent of that day when William Howard Taft became president—which saw one of the worst blizzards in the capital's history—was the shrill sound of the March wind today as it swayed the trees in the yard of his Wyoming avenue home.

For that other day—there were cheers and shouting; for today, the stillness of the sickroom, interrupted only by the whispering of the doctors and the subdued footfalls of the vigilant nurse.

To those who read of the complication of illness which brought the former president and chief justice down several weeks ago—and knew their portent—it has been an amazing thing that he has lived to see another anniversary of his entrance into the White House. Doctors abandoned all hope several days ago, only to see their patient rally, surprisingly.

They do not now predict just when the end will come. They say only he cannot survive. His son, Robert A. Taft, who presented his father's resignation to President Hoover as chief justice just a month ago, returned last night to Cincinnati.

EVANGELIST SUE ON BUSINESS DEALS

LOS ANGELES, March 4.—(UP)—Aimee Semple McPherson today was defendant in two suits, each charging that the woman evangelist had changed her mind on business deals.

Harold Simpson asked $5000 because, he asserted, Mrs. McPherson failed to keep a motion picture contract. He declared that he had made screen tests of the evangelist with the understanding that he would produce her first talking picture.

Carl Brunner, who yesterday filed a damage action for $143,339, charged that in November, 1927, the evangelist and Ralph Jordan, her business associate, agreed to let him select a site for a new church and clubhouse and then dropped the matter after he had spent $10,000 on maps and preparations.

NEW WHEAT POOL URGED FOR BRITAIN

LONDON, March 4.—(UP)—A new wheat pool, enabling Great Britain to regulate in the British Isles the supply and price of grain raised in the dominions, has been suggested as one of the means for weeding the British empire into an economic unit.

The scheme, devised by E. F. Wise, laborite member of parliament, is designed to give British farmers a stable price for their wheat, to protect them against the dumping of foreign subsidized grain, and to encourage the dominions to purchase British manufactured goods in exchange for standing orders in Britain for their grain.

Wise would create a public corporation to purchase in bulk the wheat output of the dominions, store it in England, and release it on the market in a steady flow to avoid speculation and sharp fluctuations.

Air Travel Is At Standstill North Of Here

Huge Steamers Due to Dock Today Unable to Make Port During Day

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4.—(UP)—Southwest storm signals were posted along the Pacific today while a freighter was in distress and two passenger liners far behind schedule.

Gales swept inland during the day, bringing torrential rains to Northern California and air traffic was almost at a standstill as a result of the storm.

The Tacoma-Oriental freighter, Bellingham, with a crew of 38, was reported in distress in the vicinity of the Aleutian Islands, according to radio dispatches.

The SOS was picked up by the freighter Nevada which started at once to aid the vessel. The Bellingham, which left Tacoma February 14 with a cargo of lumber for Yokohama, is not in immediate danger, radiograms said. A shifting of the cargo caused a bad list.

Radiograms from the Dollar liner President Grant said the vessel, due to arrive Wednesday, could not make port until Thursday. The Matson ship Matsonia, due here at 6 a. m., will not reach harbor until late in the day.

Heavy seas near pier five made landing of the air ferries, Ltd., amphibians unsafe. All Maddux tried north and south were cancelled and Western Air Express reported their schedules "delayed."

The west coast transport flight to Portland also was cancelled but the Boeing line continued to carry airmail both east and west, although all passenger traffic was barred.

The storm was reported 200 miles west of Eureka and moving southeast.

The heavy rainfall, however, and its accompanying mild temperatures brought joy to ranchers and irrigators throughout the state. More than half an inch of rain fell during the night and early today, bringing the season's total here to 12.36 inches.

COOLIDGE DAM IS DEDICATED TODAY

GLOBE, Ariz., March 4.—(UP)—Coolidge dam—one of the nation's largest reclamation projects—was dedicated by former President Calvin Coolidge late today "to the furtherment of mankind's struggle for progress."

A brisk wind made his characteristically brief dedicatory address scarcely audible to the thousands of residents of the southwest who stood closely packed on the upper structure of the dam to hear him. Stepping down from the platform at the conclusion of his speech, Coolidge broke a bottle of Gila river water over the concrete parapet and christened the dam with his own name.

Giving only slight acknowledgment to the prolonged and rousing applause that greeted his gesture, the former chief executive retired to his place on the platform and other speakers extolled the benefits which will come from the mammoth project by which the Gila river has been harnessed and made to irrigate arid lands.

WALES IS RECOVERING

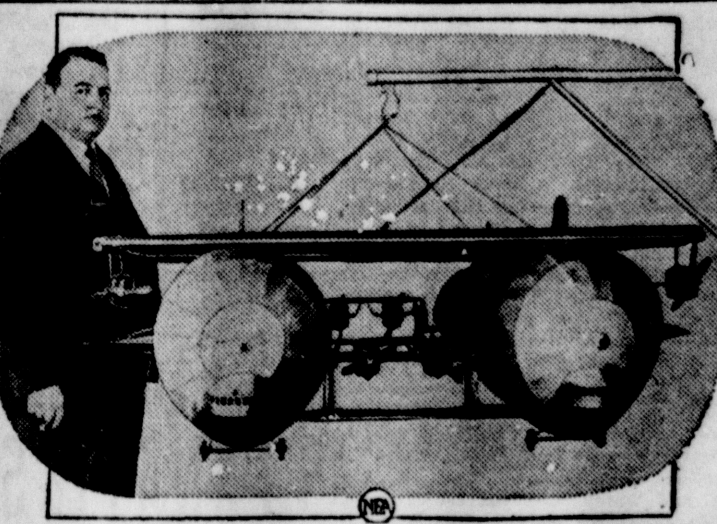

NAIROBI, Africa, March 4.—(UP)—The Prince of Wales was reported today as rapidly recovering from his attack of malarial fever, and planning to continue his hunting trip.

An official bulletin issued today said:

"The Prince of Wales is now convalescent, and expects to proceed to Uganda on March 9 as had been originally arranged."

NEWEST IN AIRCRAFT

The model "drigi-plane" shown below combines the best features of both lighter and heavier than air craft and is to be built by a company headed by Captain Haakon Hammer, former secretary of the San Clemente Chamber of Commerce. Attempts are being made to locate the factory in Orange county. Actual construction is expected to start shortly. The ship will be 310 feet long, with a wing spread of 210 feet. It will cruise at 120 miles per hour with 120 passengers or a useful load of over 60,000 pounds. Six motors will propel the craft.

DRYS FLAYED SEARCHERS ARE AS FANATICS STILL SEEKING BY PROFESSOR MISSING PLANE

Final Day of Anti-Prohibition Arguments Brings Out Hot Debate

WASHINGTON, March 4.—(UP)—The prohibitive instinct is the most serious menace of civilization today, a Johns Hopkins university psychiatrist, Dr. Stewart Paton, told the house judiciary committee today in testimony in which he psycho-analyzed dry members of the committee.

Paton blandly referred to enthusiastic drys as "fanatics," and declared that total abstinence many times have worse secret members of the committee, he said science guarantees the authenticity of the old story that a man who does not drink, smoke, chew or curse "must have some very interesting secret vices."

Paton's testimony came after Representative Linthicum, Democrat, Maryland, chairman of the house wet bloc, had summed up the wet's case at the start of the final day of anti-prohibitionist arguments before the committee on proposals to repeal or modify the dry law. Linthicum demanded action on the Sabbath resolution to repeal the 18th amendment, and

SUPERVISORS GIVEN CHANCE TO PURCHASE WATER LANDS

Following on the heels of the wave of protest against the intrusion of the city of Long Beach into Orange county in search of a further water supply for that city, which was inaugurated by the recent action of the county board of supervisors in protesting such a move, a group of men who had engineered a deal with the beach city relative to Orange county land, appeared before the supervisors today, told of their plans, and promised to give Orange county interests an opportunity to buy the land before completing the deal with Long Beach.

They outlined plans for the sale of about 800 acres of land, located between Cypress and Los Alamitos near the county line, and explained to the board their status in the matter.

The group, including John C. Hamm, Long Beach attorney, G. G. Priddy, a member of a real estate firm at Cypress, and Alfred Hanson, one of the principal land holders in the district, for whom Hamm acted as spokesman, advised the members of the board that they felt the sale of their property to Long Beach would be the least damaging to Orange county of any of the other sites which it is reported Long Beach is considering. The other sites include Ana and Costa Mesa and another location in Riverside county further toward the source of the Santa Ana river. Hamm read a clipping from a Long Beach paper which stated that the Long Beach city council was making an inspection of the three sites today.

Hamm stated that the group he represented had been working on the matter for some time and had consolidated the holdings of numerous small pieces of property, that they were desirous of selling the land but that they wanted to put all their cards face up before the county authorities before taking action. He stated that they had made a proposition to Long Beach but that no option had been delivered. The land is priced at an average of $1000 per acre, it was said.

The promise to give the Orange county body or any association interested, refusal of the property before completing the deal with Long Beach, was made in answer to a question by Supervisor Charles Chapman, who asked if they would consider such a move.

Hamm also advised that there were two wells on the tract whose production would pay interest on the amount of capital required for the purchase of the tract, which is approximately $800,000. The land was formerly used for production of beets and is a rectangular strip one half mile wide, within four miles of the Long Beach water plant at Signal Hill, Hamm advised.

AIR CRUISER REVELATION TO INDUSTRY

Will Combine Best Features Of Both Lighter and Heavier Than Air Craft

HAMMER IS PRESIDENT

Prominent Orange County Men Identified With Concern, Reports Indicate

PLANS FOR construction of a revolutionary type of air cruiser and erection of a plant to employ from 200 to 300 men, at a cost of $1,500,000 to $2,000,000, for which an attempt is being made to negotiate a location in Orange county, were revealed to The Register today. The Williams Patent corporation, of which Captain Haakon Hammer, vice president of the Orange County Coast association, is president.

The new air cruiser will combine the best features of both lighter and heavier than air machines, according to Captain Hammer, who also revealed that T. B. Tubert, of Huntington Beach, is among a group of Orange county men interested in the project. All stock in the concern has been sold, he pointed out.

"The craft is almost as revolutionary to aviation as Fulton's first steamboat was to ocean navigation," Captain Hammer said in outlining unique features of the ship. "It has been predicted by men of prominence in the aeronautical world that, before aviation will become commercially practicable, this type of ship must be placed in use."

Three outstanding features of the ship include added safety to be secured through combining features of the two types of aircraft, economical and speedy transportation at a cruising speed of 120 miles per hour, with exceptional comfort for air travelers, to be provided in spacious ball room, dining room and private quarters, Captain Hammer

LINDBERGH READY FOR GLIDER TESTS

DEL MONTE, Calif., March 4.—(UP)—Expecting to spend one or two days in glider experiments at Monterey on the shores of the Pacific ocean, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was preparing today for the first of these flights.

His plans cloaked with secrecy, Lindbergh and Mrs. Anne Lindbergh, left the home of Thomas B. Eastland, director of the transcontinental Air Transport, at Hillsborough Monday night by automobile.

Monday afternoon the Colonel borrowed a cabin monoplane at Mills field and took Eastland, Mrs. Nion Tucker and Robert friends, for a 20-minute flight over San Francisco. Later he made another flight with three of his friends, including a young woman whose names he declined to give.

King George Presides At Ceremony

LONDON, March 4.—(UP)—King George presided in person over his first ceremony of investiture since his illness a year ago, in the throne room at Buckingham palace today.

Presence of the king at the ceremony, which is a lengthy and tedious rite entailing a severe strain upon him, was regarded as distinct proof that his physicians are satisfied with the condition of his health.

More than 100 recipients of New Year's honors, including Rose A. Rosenberg, secretary to Premier J. Ramsay MacDonald, were officially invested with their rank and titles.

Tustin Boys Hurt, One Near Death, In Auto Accident

JIM TORRENS IN HOSPITAL WITH SKULL INJURY

Two Tustin high school boys were seriously injured at 8 o'clock last night, when the automobile in which they were riding overturned one mile east of the viaduct over the San Diego highway, near Irvine, pinning them beneath the car for more than 30 minutes before they were found by a passer-by bus driver.

Jimmy Torrens, 15, of Laguna avenue, Tustin, is in the Santa Ana Valley hospital, suffering from a basal fracture of the skull, a double fracture of the jaw and other serious injuries, and Clyde Becker, 13, of Newport road, Tustin, suffered severe injuries to his arms and was badly cut and bruised. He was removed to his home from the hospital late last night.

The condition of young Torrens was critical today. Still unconscious, it was reported that the skull fracture made his condition perilous.

The boys were on their way to Laguna Beach at the time of the accident. It is thought that they were driving too fast when they attempted to round a curve, the car overturning on them.

HAITI COMMISSION HEARS COMPLAINTS

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, March 4.—(UP)—President Hoover's Haitian investigating commission yesterday heard an able group of native attorneys open the case of "The People of Haiti vs. The American Occupation."

They heard the presidency of Luis Borno described as "a dictatorship possible only with the support of American violence and an existing understanding between Borno and Brigadier General John H. Russell, American high commissioner here."

They listened to an explanation of an alleged "joke" in the Haitian constitution of 1913 which, Haitian nationalists declare, has enabled President Borno to continue in office.

INVESTIGATE DEATH OF UNDERCOVER MAN

PUEBLO, Colo., March 4.—(UP)—Department of justice agents today investigated the death of William E. Patterson, undercover man for the federal prohibition department, who was abducted and slain.

Patterson's body, riddled with bullets, was found on the prairie seven miles southeast of here yesterday after a 24-hour search by posse.

The murdered man is believed to have been "taken for a ride" by local bootleggers or persons hired by the liquor interests.

Patterson was employed regularly as a railroad inspector and few persons knew of his connection with the prohibition department.

SEARCHERS ARE STILL SEEKING MISSING PLANE

set out early this morning. The sheriff's men and Barber were to be joined by another party headed by Western Air Express officials.

Storm conditions over the mountain made search by air very difficult. Two Western Air planes managed to cruise over the region late yesterday but the pilots reported they saw nothing.

This did not tend to discredit Barber's claim, it was said, because of the weather and the fact that Barber alone knows the exact spot where he says he located the plane wreckage in the wild ravine.

Chances that the three fliers were alive in the storm-swept mountains were not very bright, aviation men agreed. They had food and water sufficient for from 10 days to two weeks when they set out from Kingman, Ariz., for Los Angeles a week ago last Sunday.

suggested an amendment whereby the repealer would be submitted to special conventions to be called by the various states for that purpose.

Litchicum's statement, came after Chairman Graham read to the committee a letter from Walter W. Liggett, magazine writer, reiterating and in some instances amplifying charges made recently concerning laxity of prohibition enforcement in Kansas. Liggett's letter was in reply to counter charges made before the committee by Attorney General Smith of Kansas.

Paton testified immediately after Representative John J. Cochran, Democrat, Missouri, had made an appeal for the Norton resolution providing for a national referendum on prohibition.

During this psycho-analysis of members of the preponderantly dry judiciary committee, the Johns Hopkins scientist engaged only in general terms and did not seek to show any particular vices, secret drinking or otherwise.

Men and nations have ceased to talk of sanity and temperance to such an extent, Paton said, "that if it doesn't change its attitude democracy will end in triumphal mediocrity."

Pointing out that "there are more insane in our institutions than students in our colleges and universities," he said the prohibition attitude had encouraged the rebellious instincts in men and had not encouraged their sane instincts.

Only two other modern nations have tried the prohibition policy—"autocratic Prussia and Soviet Russia," he said. "It failed in Prussia," he added, "and it will fail in Russia because it is the policy of insanity and intemperance."

It is said that about one-third of the people go through life without ever having whooping cough.

Tells Dyspeptics What To Eat

Avoid Gas—Indigestion

Strict diets are often unnecessary in stomach trouble. While some foods do produce excessive acidity and many stomachs do generate "too much acid" causing gas, sourness, bloating and after-eating pains, the trouble may be the use of a good alkaline. Bilets—is the ideal for this purpose. Just a little after meals neutralizes all the excess acid, prevents souring, breaks up gas and ends indigestion. Favorite foods no longer upset stomach and digestion is easy and painless. It will do all this for you or money back. Reliable druggists everywhere sell Bilets with this guarantee.—Adv.

valuation. The bonds, however, will be sold only as needed for the project and the peak of the tax rate would not prevail until six or seven years after initiation of the work, by which time, it is anticipated, valuations will have increased to such an extent as to cut the estimated 90 cent rate by 35 or 40 per cent.

Some of the councilmen expressed the opinion that it would not be necessary to create a special tax to take care of Santa Ana's obligation, as profits from the water department should carry the load. Introduction of gravity water would relieve the city of the burden of maintaining pumping plants here and this saving, plus profits from the water plant, may be sufficient to nearly meet the annual interest and sinking charge, in the opinion of members of the council. It was pointed out by Colonel Finley that the law under which the Metropolitan water district has been created permits a municipality to pay its portion of the annual charges in a lump sum.

The district secretary said that it is possible one of the three district reservoirs contemplated for the district may be located in Brea canyon.

Long Beach, he said, is giving consideration to the advisability of that city entering the district. The city has appointed a representative to sit in at meetings of the board of directors of the district to keep beach city authorities informed on proceedings of the board.

pointed out. It will be an all-metal ship.

Two gas bags, 310 feet long, filled with helium, will be fastened together by airplane wings and elevators fore and aft. The space between the bags will be from 30 to 40 feet, following the stream line of the gas bags. Six 600 horsepower motors will power the craft, four being mounted near the forward ends of the bags.

It will take from one and one-half to two years to complete the first ship and decision as to the definite type of motor to be used will depend on developments in motor building taking place between now and time for installation of the power plants. The company is following carefully the new Diesel type of engine used on the dirigible R-101 and also a Diesel type engine being built by the Packard Motor Car company.

Passenger accommodations will occupy the top portion of the huge ship. Sixty passengers will find accommodations in compartments above each bag. Passageways in the forward wings will unite the compartments above each bag.

The ship will be able to land either on water or land and it will require but a small space on which to settle. It will have a total lifting power of 140,000 pounds and will be able to carry a useful load of over 60,000 pounds.

Oscillating motors, capable of operating at a 45 degree angle, will enable the "dirigible" to rise almost vertically, according to Captain Hammer.

According to Captain Hammer it is the belief of Henry Ford and also of Commander Burney, of England, that this type of ship is the one which will carry the commercial air traffic of the future because it will combine the speed of the airplane and the safety of the dirigible.

In attempts to locate the plant in Orange county no definite sites have been considered, Captain Hammer pointed out, but he stated that climatic conditions here were exceptionally favorable to construction of and experimenting with this type of ship.

F. D. Williams, of Los Angeles, is the inventor of the craft. Associated with him and Captain Hammer are Rex B. Goodsell, former internal revenue collector and federal judge; and J. C. Casler, former president of the Dallas Telephone company and former vice-president of the Southwest Bell Telephone company. Casler is vice-president of the Williams Patent corporation. William Mox, of the Mox Lumber company, is on the board of directors.

The concern will lease the ships after construction and all cruises for American transportation will be built in the plant to be located on the Pacific coast and possibly in Orange county. It is possible that a European plant will be erected.

A six foot flying model of the air cruiser is now on display at the company's Los Angeles offices, 3638 Beverly boulevard.

Expect Amateur Talkie Will Be Ready March 20

"What'll We Do Now?" the world's first amateur all talking, singing and dancing musical revue, now being produced by the Santa Ana Movie Makers, will have its world premiere in Santa Ana in the form of a stage presentation, according to an announcement made today by Ted Newcomb, producer.

All the stars of the film, including Clarence Cray and Doris Dolan, of radio fame, will appear here in person during the run of the stage show. A cast of 40 talented performers are now rehearsing and the production is expected to be ready for its first showing on or before March 20, it was announced today.

Lynwood Mitchell, better known to KREO radio fans as "Lightnin," has been added to the cast of "What'll We Do Now?" Mitchell will sing a brand new comedy song "Why Do They Pick on Me?" written by Emmette Osborne and Howard Rombough, well known Southland composers.

HOLD INQUEST IN ATTORNEY'S MURDER

SANTA ROSA, Calif., March 4.—(UP)—A coroner's inquest into the murder of Marcus Z. Farwell, San Francisco attorney, and one time Colorado state senator from La Junta, Colo., was expected to start here today.

Farwell was shot in the back and died in a hospital a short time later a week ago tonight. Police were still searching for the woman whose scream was heard immediately after the sound of the shot. Efforts to identify the murder weapon found near the scene of the crime have been fruitless.

SEEK SERVICE STATION CURB IN SANTA ANA

to a man contemplating entering the business by denying him the right to conduct a new station, for you would save him the loss of money he might invest in the enterprise and in maintaining it for a time," Jerome said. "The property owner who rents a lot for a new station is the only one who can possibly profit. There are plenty of station owners in the city who would be glad to dispose of their stations at a reasonable price, and one contemplating starting a new station would have the better chance of success by buying an established business than by attempting to establish a new one."

Jerome said that success of stations is being assailed by the policy of some of the major oil companies of providing complete station equipment to any one anywhere on a monthly rental basis of $5. He said that under this program it is possible for most anyone to get into the business and sell at cut rates because of slight overhead, Jerome predicted that this policy would result within the next few months in an increase of 100 places where gasoline could be purchased.

Councilmen expressed sympathy with the station operators in killing competition, but questioned authority of the body to deny in every instance an application for permission to open a station. It might be possible, it was intimated, to prevent location of stations in residence zones.

FREIGHTER RUSHES TO DISTRESSED SHIP

PORTLAND, Ore., March 4.—(UP)—The freighter Nevada was rushing to the aid of the Tacoma-Oriental freighter Bellingham, which sent an SOS late Monday, reporting itself in distress in the North Pacific in the vicinity of the Aleutian Islands, the Mackay Radio here reported today.

The Bellingham is in no immediate danger, reports received by the local marine board said. The disabled craft left Tacoma February 14 with a cargo for Yokohama and Manila.

First reports that the Bellingham was in distress said the craft's cargo had shifted, causing a list. The vessel has a crew of 33 aboard.

COMPLETE RUM OUTFIT SEIZED AT ALAMITOS

Four hundred gallons of whiskey, 1100 gallons of mash, 62 five, 10 and 50-gallon barrels, numerous jugs, four complete whiskey stills and one prisoner were taken by sheriff's officers in a surprise raid on the home of Prichano Cortez, 55, of Los Alamitos, at 8 o'clock last night.

The haul was the largest made by officers in this county in several months and is considered by officers an even greater "catch" than when some 800 gallons of wine were captured in the same neighborhood several days ago.

P. W. Howard, chief criminal deputy sheriff, and Deputies Jess Buckles, F. L. Humston and A. L. Steward made the raid. They went to Los Alamitos on a tip that a still was in operation there, but they were not prepared to find such a large plant.

Driving through an alley the odor of hot whiskey reached them and they stopped to investigate. They saw a man standing outside a house and promptly arrested him. Then they investigated, finding the stills. The stills were of 25-gallon capacity, fed by three two-burner stoves and one three-burner stove. These were found in one house. In the house also were approximately 200 gallons of whiskey.

The investigation led then to the house next door, where apparently there was no liquor stored. A fake wall in one of the bedrooms of the place was discovered by Howard, who, after tapping the sides, found a concealed door. Inside a three-foot section, which had been partitioned off, officers found 22 five-gallon kegs, and 18 10-gallon kegs of whiskey, which had been stored there to age.

Money was found scattered all about the house, officers reported, more than $100 being picked up in various places. The prisoner also had a dress suit stored away. A silk hat also was found. The prisoner, a Mexican, did not reveal where he obtained the dress suit, but did say that the still was his and that he had been operating it for some time, the officers claimed.

Most of the liquor found was "raisin whiskey," artificially colored, officers reported. A box of raisins, a quantity of brown sugar and dozens of empty glass bottles, funnels, coils and other equipment completed the haul.

THORPE WILL SPEAK HERE AT WALNUT MEET

Carlyle Thorpe, manager of the California Walnut Growers' association, will address the walnut growers of Orange county in the Santa Ana city council chambers Friday, reporting the present price outlook based on an eastern survey just completed for the association by W. T. Webber, assistant manager. It was announced today by Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg.

Thorpe is considered one of the outstanding co-operative sales managers in the United States and was so recognized by the federal farm board, when he was selected recently to help the board analyze the Sunland grape situation in Fresno.

Dr. H. E. Erdman, economist of University of California, is another national figure who will address the walnut growers Friday on the "Outlook of the Walnut Industry." Dr. Erdman recently completed an exhaustive study of the walnut industry from a long-time economic standpoint and has published his findings in the University of California bulletin No. 475, entitled, "Walnut Supply and Price Situation," which is available in the farm advisor's office here. He has been requested to review the important factors found in his survey. Dr. Erdman is president of the National Association of Agricultural Economists.

The program also will include W. H. Hooper, walnut specialist in the University of California, who will discuss briefly the results obtained from a large number of production cost studies conducted by the agricultural extension service in cooperation with growers of Orange, Los Angeles and Ventura counties.

Harold E. Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor, will present the "Costs Involved in Changing Walnut Acreage to Citrus."

A. J. McFadden, vice president of the California Walnut Growers' association, will preside at the meeting, which is to be held under the auspices of the agricultural extension service and the walnut department of the Orange County Farm Bureau.

All growers and others interested are urged to attend the meeting which will open at 1:30.

JURY STILL INCOMPLETE AT NOON IN ALEX P. NELSON'S TRIAL ON CHARGE OF THEFT

A careful testing, by both the prosecution and the defense, of the prospective jurors who are to try the case of Alex P. Nelson, former Orange county district attorney, delayed the actual start of the trial today, with the jury still incomplete at noon. Nelson is charged in an indictment returned by the Orange county grand jury, last January with grand theft of $950 from funds of the estate of Martin Eppson, of which he was administrator. It is alleged in the grand jury true bill that the theft occurred on June 11, 1927.

The examination of the jurors, several of whom had been excused on peremptory challenges at noon, was skillfully handled by L. A. West, chief defense counsel, who himself preceded his client in the office of district attorney, and by Deputy District Attorney Sam Collins, who is representing the present district attorney, Z. B. West, who followed Nelson in succession to the office.

Occupying the bench for the trial was Judge Benjamin F. Warner, of the San Bernardino superior court, who was transferred to handle this case after the three superior court judges in this county, G. K. Scovel, H. G. Ames and James L. Allen, had disqualified themselves. Judge Warner is a brother of Dr. George Warner, pastor of the First Methodist church here. Judge Allen is occupying Judge Warner's bench in San Bernardino this week.

Associated with L. A. West for the defense are Z. B. Kinney and Kenneth Burns, while Deputy District Attorney S. B. Kaufman is assisting in the prosecution. The trial is expected to consume three or four days and is attracting considerable interest.

CHANEY OFFERS RESIGNATION TO CITY COUNCIL

Homer C. Chaney last night filed with the city council his resignation as representative of the third ward. The members expressed regret at their colleague's action and took his resignation under consideration.

"I hand you this letter, which is my resignation as trustee from the third ward," reads the resignation. "It is with regret that I do this, since the association with other members of the council and other employees of the city has been friendly and inspiring."

Chaney explained his action by stating that city business required too much of his time that should be devoted to his office as assistant trust officer in the First National bank and that the extra duties imposed on him were overtaxing his strength.

With members declaring that they were opposed to the measure if it proposed to give a pension of $50 a month to all Spanish war veterans when they reach 50 years of age, the council declined to take favorable action on the request of Calumpit camp for indorsement of

A petition from 19 property owners, asking that Orange road be made a city street, was referred to the city engineer, who will ascertain whether it is the desire of the petitioners to have the road widened. The road extends from Main to Flower street and is but 20 or 30 feet wide. Creation of an assessment district would be necessary should the owners desire to widen the avenue.

Permission was given the Veterans of Foreign Wars to operate a carnival show at Lacy and Third streets for a week starting March 7.

Want Commission Changed

Recommendation of the planning commission that other than city officials be appointed to the commission was taken under advisement. Three city officials are members of the commission and it was pointed out that at times of meetings of the planning body it was almost impossible to get a quorum because the officials always were busy with municipal business.

Councilmen expressed the opinion that city officials should not be members of the planning commission. It also was suggested that the policy be established of relieving an appointee whenever he misses three consecutive meetings of the body.

Councilman W. J. Kelly was appointed a committee to interview property owners with reference to property needed for increasing the curve radius at the northeast corner of First and Bush streets and the southeast corner of Bush and Cypress.

MAN WHOSE EARS WERE CUT OFF BY PANCHO VILLA IS GIVEN LENIENCY BY COURT

An old time acquaintance of Pancho Villa, most daring of all Mexico's bandit chieftains, stood in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this morning and heard the judge give him a six-month suspended jail sentence on a charge of disturbing the peace.

He was Francisco Segoria, 45, of 1831 West Third street, Santa Ana, and the proof that he and Villa had at least crossed paths, lay in the fact that both Segoria's ears had been cut off.

The Mexican explained to Officer A. L. Steward, deputy sheriff, who made the arrest, that he always had opposed Villa. Twice Villa had caught him and on each occasion, he explained, Villa had cut off one of his ears. Death would have been the result if he and Villa had met for the third time, he said.

The man's ears were cut in a peculiar manner. The top and the lower parts of each ear were clipped off. Segoria wore his hair long in an effort to cover the disfigurement.

Segoria was arrested following a row in Talbot and the suspended sentence was given when the man brought six small children into court and proved to the judge that if he went to jail there would be no one to take care of the children.

ARRAIGN YOUTHS ON STATUTORY CHARGES

Two youthful Stanton Mexicans were arraigned in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this morning on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Two youths, Ernesto Juarez, 18, and Valentino Zuinga, 20, are charged with a crime against a 15-year-old Stanton girl, whom they are alleged to have taken to Kern county.

Bail of $1500 was demanded of each defendant and their preliminary examinations set for 10 a.m., March 11. They failed to make bail.

was granted yesterday afternoon by Judge G. K. Soovel to Susanna M. LeHew from Glenn J. LeHew on a charge of habitual intemperance. The couple married in Kenton, O., on Feb. 28, 1912, and separated in 1927.

Judge H. G. Ames yesterday afternoon denied a motion to vacate and set aside the satisfaction of judgment resulting from a judgment of $150 for the plaintiffs, Goodrich Brothers, in their action against Frank Goodrich. The court in making the ruling asserted that the evidence introduced, while it showed collusion between Leal Goodrich, a member of the firm, and Frank Goodrich, the defendant in making the satisfaction, failed to show that no consideration was involved. The court advised that Leal Goodrich, who made the satisfaction of judgment with the defendant, was accountable to the other members of the firm for the money so received.

BACHELORS AND JUNIOR LIONS IN JOINT MEET

A joint meeting of the Brotherhood of Bachelors and the Junior Lions club of the Santa Ana Junior college was held in James cafe, last night in an effort to draw the two organizations to a more fraternal spirit of fellowship. A discussion of better ways by which to build up college tradition and spirit was held with Ernest Stump, grand exalted bachelor, presiding.

The organization adopted a resolution to co-operate in insuring the success of the annual Don Fiesta this year. They also plan to build up the attendance record at the weekly assemblies in college hall by obtaining entertaining speakers and program features. A beach party was planned by the two orders.

Among those in attendance were Lawrence Minge, Dean Fiske and J. Russell Bruff, who is faculty advisor to the executive board of the college and who is head of student social activities. They were honor guests.

SUIT IS AIMED AT SISTER'S ESTATE

Seeking to enforce a claim against the estate of his sister for services rendered over a period of 22 months prior to her death, W. I. McFarland today is in superior court in connection with a suit directed against Samuel E. Thomas, executor of the will of Cordelia McFarland Thomas.

In the action, which is being tried before Judge H. G. Ames, the plaintiff is seeking to recover from the estate, which, it is said, amounts to approximately $10,000, some $3300, which previously was rejected by the executor of the state. McFarland asserts that he acted as nurse and housekeeper for his sister from Nov. 1, 1926, until Sept. 6, 1928, and is asking remuneration at the rate of $130 per month.

The defendant is claiming that sufficient remuneration has been provided in the shape of a bequest which leaves property valued at $3000 to McFarland.

MORPHINE AND CASH STOLEN FROM STORE

ANAHEIM, March 4.—Narcotic thieves were active in Anaheim yesterday, when they entered the drug store at the corner of West Center and Clementine streets, according to H. E. Arnold, proprietor of the store, the thieves stole morphine and heroin and took $140.00 from the cash register.

The store was entered some time after 4 o'clock, according to police. The thieves entered the front door of the store by means of a "jimmy". The narcotics were taken from the cabinet after the lock was broken.

Fingerprints were obtained by the identification bureau of the local police department.

It was reported by Larsen and Moore, proprietors of the Palm street drug store, that an attempt had been made on their place of business. For some reason the attempt was given up.

Personal effects valued at $55 were stolen from the home of Mrs. Ira W. Wells, 128 South Melrose street, Saturday night. Articles mentioned in the loot were several rings, a watch and a necklace.

The charge against the man was reduced to reckless driving before Borboa was brought into court.

EXPEDITION FINDS BEISAN TREASURES

JERUSALEM, March 3.—(UP)—Not since the discovery of Tutankhamen's tomb has a more important archaeological find been made than the recent uncovering of ancient Bethshan by the University of Pennsylvania's expedition.

Treasures discovered in the eight superimposed city levels at Beisan, revive, with corroborative evidence, the Biblical stories of Saul, David, the Philistines and the Israelites.

Two Philistine temples, mentioned in the narratives of Samuel and Chronicles, were found on the third level.

Shrine houses, miniature representations of the goddess and her temples, little two-story pottery houses from the doors and windows of which roughly carved figures of Ashtoreth peer, were among the most important discoveries.

Betty Meeks Will Face Drunk Count In Accident Case

The Meeks woman was brought from the county hospital to the county jail yesterday afternoon. She had been in the hospital since the accident, recovering from injuries.

Kerns is in jail, without bail, awaiting preliminary examination on a murder charge in connection with the death of Jones. His hearing is set for Thursday morning in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court.

"Coming events cast their shadows before"

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—men who would keep that trim, proper form, eat healthfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the liche, youthful, modern figure.

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough.

*Be Moderate! . . . Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing belts or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

500,000 EXPECTED AT L. A. LAND SHOW

LOS ANGELES, Calif., March 4.—Everything from the smallest bits of grain to the largest lemon in the world will be on display at the first annual California Land show, which will open March 8 at Hill and Washington streets, and continue for 16 days. This was assured today when Fred Shafter, Yolo county commissioner, arrived here to install the counties exhibit. With him, he brought a lemon of the ponderosa variety, that measures 25 inches in circumference.

It is estimated by the committee that there will be a minimum attendance of 500,000 because of the throngs of tourists and home-seekers here at this period.

PLANS ALREADY IN MAKING FOR 1931 CARNIVAL

"A bigger and better carnival for next year," was the enthusiastic promise made today by Jules Marfel, general Mardi Gras chairman of Santa Ana Legion post, No. 181, as he discussed the closing festivities of the three-day affair and the large crowds attracted to Legion hall and the carnival grounds on Saturday night.

The three days of merry-making culminated Saturday in the truest expression of the carnival spirit yet shown, according to Marfel, who felt that the splendid spirit manifested both afternoon and evening promised unusually well for a continuation of the celebration as an annual event.

This spirit was shown when the various concessions and the circus grounds attracted hundreds of patrons all Saturday afternoon and reached its height with the coming of evening when the good natured crowds filled the street from curb to curb in the vicinity of Legion hall and stormed the doors when they were opened for the grand ball which was the concluding event.

Harvel's orchestra plays Marfel's orchestra, which met with such enthusiasm when it played on the opening night for the coronation ball, repeated its success on the closing night and gave a program which dance enthusiasts pronounced faultless. This organization includes in its personnel Gilbert Harrell, manager, who plays the trumpet; Johnny Casella, trumpet; Dale Shull, trombone; George Keith, guitar; A. Casella, string bass, and Adeline Cochems Harrell, piano. To complete Saturday night's musical program, Miss La Verne Harrell, a prominent vocalist of the city, and late of the musical comedy, "Sambina," sang several solo numbers.

Rating with the ball and its joyous carnival spirit was the midnight show, presented in the Broadway theater by Local 564, International Association of Theater and Stage Employees. This was a friendly gesture, indeed, on the part of this association, which conspired with the Legionnaires by making it a benefit for the Orange County Health camp. Proceeds will be used to purchase motion picture equipment for the camp and the Santa Ana operators of the union will donate their services once a week, together with the films, so that the children will have a weekly picture show of their own.

King, Queen Honor Guests This midnight performance was made a gala affair, with Queen Corinne Pennington and D. Eymann Huff, "King Rex" of the Mardi Gras, as guests of honor, and the Legion drug corps occupying a prominent place on the stage and on the vaudeville program. Every seat in the house was occupied.

A camera has been invented to be lowered into oil wells as they are being bored to study their courses and detect errors in drilling.

SANTA ANA GIRL ENTERTAINS BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN'S CLUB WITH READINGS

Introducing a talented young reader in the person of Miss Harriet Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Morris, of Santa Ana, Miss Vanche Plumb, March program chairman of the Business and Professional Women's club, yesterday provided the first of an interesting series of weekly programs at St. Ann's inn.

Miss Morris gave her readings in two groups, and entertained her audience with the clever monologue "Back Seat Driving in an Airplane," "Mother's Hour of Rest," "At the Cafeteria" and "Sign Wanted." Another pleasing contribution to the program was the quartet from Miss Lorraine French's side, the "Tags," in the attendance contest.

The singers, Freddie Moeser, Barger, Mrs. Marie Fowler, Mrs. Lula Blackburn and Miss Ethel Coffman, had Mrs. Italy Lee as their accompanist, and sang a very clever parody of "Maryland, My Maryland," written by Mrs. Blackburn.

The remainder of the luncheon interval was given over to various announcements made by the president, Mrs. N. E. Mayhill, who called attention to the fact that but four members could be guests at the district board meeting dinner on March 18, in Wilmington. Dinner will be served aboard the S. S. City of Honolulu, and the hostess club requires the majority of places for its own members, leaving so few that other Southland clubs will be limited to four each. The president and three board members were selected as Santa Ana's representatives.

Miss Florence Rockhill, club secretary, has just been appointed to a position in the Laguna Beach bank, and tendered her resignation to the local club. Miss Mabel Wiseman was named to fill out her unexpired term.

Miss Plumb, as chairman of the March committee, outlined some of the events in store for the members. Next Monday's meeting will feature a "mystery" program, whose nature has not been announced. On March 17, Mrs. E. E. Keech has consented to tell some of the details of her trip through the Orient. On March 24 will come a dinner meeting, with the evening to be given over to Dr. Alfred Cookman, president of the Nature club of Southern California. His lecture theme will be "The Romance of Bird Life." The final Monday will find the lively "hello girls" of the local telephone exchange in charge.

Miss Plumb's committee is composed of Miss Harriet Whidden, Mrs. Mabel Reinhardt, Miss Mamie Lane and Mrs. Edna Timm.

REV. RINGLAND IS SPEAKER AT REVIVAL MEET

The Rev. H. B. Spayd preached the Sunday morning sermon at the revival meeting in the First United Brethren church, where the Rev. R. W. Harlow, pastor, is continuing to conduct the revival. Five new members were received into the church and 97 persons received the communion of the Lord's Supper at the Sunday gathering.

The Rev. T. W. Ringland, conference superintendent, was the speaker last evening, and directed the business of the quarterly conference.

Services will be held daily at 9:30 a. m. and at 7:15 p. m. Friday night the revival will observe the week of prayer at the church. Mrs. L. R. Harford, former national president of the Women's Missionary association of the United Brethren in Christ, will speak.

The Rev. R. W. Harlow will conduct a baptismal service next Sunday night and parents have been asked to bring their babies to be christened. Simeon Boaz, of Columbus, Ind., will lead the special music, with Mrs. H. A. Colby at the piano, at each evening service.

DR. HILLEARY SEEKS OFFICE AS TREASURER

Following announcement of his resignation as vice president of the Anaheim branch of the Bank of America, yesterday, Dr. J. G. Hilleary, who has been in the banking business in Anaheim and Santa Ana for the past five years, last night confirmed a report that he would seek the office of county treasurer at the next county election. The announcement was made at a meeting of the Anaheim Clearing House association, of which Dr. Hilleary has been president since 1925.

In a resolution passed at the meeting the Anaheim bankers pledged their support to the candidate in the coming campaign.

Dr. Hilleary has served as vice president and director of the Anaheim bank almost continuously since 1925, starting his service there when it was the First National bank. He is president of the Orange County Bankers' association, a past president of the Anaheim Kiwanis club and a member of the Elks lodge. Horace Benjamin, president of the Anaheim branch of the Bank of America, expressed a feeling of genuine loss today at Dr. Hilleary's resignation, and said he believed his election to the office of county treasurer would be a well placed trust.

Conduct Funeral Of Anaheim Man

ANAHEIM, March 4.—Major William DeSombre was laid to rest this afternoon with full military honors. Services were conducted at the city park, with the Rev. Thomas H. Walker, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiating. Regular and retired army officers served as active pallbearers with a group of reserve officers in full uniform serving as honorary pallbearers. Another group of civilians served in a similar capacity.

The cortege moving from the park was joined at Sycamore street by a military band from Fort McArthur, which headed the procession, followed by colors and color guards, firing squad, pallbearers, hearse, family, honorary pallbearers, American Legion, Spanish War Veterans and others in order. On Palm street the marchers took cars for Loma Vista Memorial park, where the services were continued by the Anaheim post of the American Legion, being conducted by the Legion chaplain. The Rev. POULTRY MEN WANT PLACE IN STATE BUREAU

Poultry producers of Orange county are greatly interested in the proposal for a poultry department in the state Farm Bureau federation, which was proposed at the meeting of the poultry departments of the seven southern counties at a recent meeting in Pomona.

There are many problems facing poultry men of the entire state and an organization of this nature, it is felt, would result in better methods of solution and help avoid duplication of effort. One of the important projects that undoubtedly would be assured through the organization of a state department is an experimental station.

State-wide organization also would be an aid in securing more national recognition for this industry, it is believed by leaders in the movement. A national survey has revealed that more persons are employed by the poultry industry than any other industry in the nation, according to R. D. Flaherty, secretary of the poultry department of the seven southern counties organization and executive secretary of the Orange County Farm Bureau. The industry, however, receives only small appropriations from the federal government and there is but little research conducted in the problems with which it is faced.

Diseases in poultry constitute one of the greatest menaces faced by the industry and a particularly fatal disease which has been making heavy inroads on flocks is the enteric wedge in securing federal co-operation. This disease, known as Canadian flu, or infectious bronchitis, in some sections has taken a toll of 25 per cent of the flocks and there is as yet no known remedy or protection. A group of nationally recognized veterinarians, including Dr. J. R. Beach, head of that department of the University of California, now is gathering at the Rockefeller institute, in New Jersey, to carry on research relative to this problem for a period of one year. It is hoped that the results will solve the serious problem.

KNIGHTS COLUMBUS TO HOLD CARNIVAL

J. Ogden Markel, grand knight of the Santa Ana council, announced today that the Southern California chapter, Knights of Columbus, will hold a pre-Lenten Mardi Gras carnival ball in the El Patio ballroom, Vermont at Third streets, Los Angeles, tomorrow night.

The district deputy of Southern California is sponsoring this gala affair, which is being held as a get-together social at which members of the various councils will become better acquainted.

District Deputy Clyde H. Ashen, who is the representative of the Santa Ana, Pomona, Anaheim and Whittier councils, is in charge of this district and is striving hard to win the attendance reward. It is planned to run a special car to Los Angeles to accommodate members from Santa Ana. Ashen is in charge of the sale of tickets and arrangements for the members who wish to attend this last social event before Lent.

COUGHTA TRUSTED HIM

LONDON, March 4.—Anita Elson, musical comedy actress, tells the following story of one of her friends: The friend sent her husband to a fur sale to buy her a coat. He was absent-minded to some extent so she decided to attend the sale herself and purchase the coat. Getting there, she commenced bidding on a coat from the rear of a large crowd. A man up in front she couldn't see kept raising the bid until she was forced to quit. The man turned out to be her husband.

Vegetable Parasite Causes ATHLETE'S FOOT

Millions Have It Starts Between Toes—The Skin Cracks—Itches and Blisters

Nowadays you hear a lot about Athlete's Foot—a contagious disease contracted in dressing and shower rooms at gymnasiums, clubs and hotels and sometimes in your own home.

It's a bad disease to have—causes no end of itching misery and misery. It's the germ called Trichophyton which breeds and multiplies on damp skin.

Catch it at the start—before it spreads from the toes to soles and the sides of the feet and brings greater distress and itching. Half of our adult population have become infected at some time according to a bulletin of the U. S. Public Health Service.

Look between your toes and under them tonight—are they cracked or blistered? Do they itch?

If you find any signs of dread Athlete's Foot get a bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil at any drug store at once—after bathing the feet apply this powerfully soothing and penetrating oil liberally—not only between and under toes but to the entire foot—the itching ceases.

It is of the greatest importance to you that you stop the spread of the disease at once. Every live pharmacist dispenses Moore's Emerald Oil. Moore's Drug Store can supply you.—Adv.

DECLINE IN COURT BUSINESS IS NOTED

If the number of cases appearing on the master calendar of the court is any indication court business in Orange county superior court is on the decline. Only 11 cases appeared on the calendar yesterday to be set by Judge G. K. Scovel, whereas there were 15 cases two weeks ago and from 20 to 30 on the setting dates prior to that time.

Of the 11 set for trial today by Judge Scovel, three were personal injury cases, two were actions on liens, two were on open book accounts and one each appeared under auto accident damages, money on contract, rescinding contract and condemnation proceedings.

The condemnation action is brought by the Fullerton school district against J. Garcia, et al.

DAN CUPID SLIPPING, 1930 RECORDS SHOW

Comparison of figures on marriage licenses issued through the office of County Clerk J. M. Backs for the first two months of this year with those of the same period in 1929 indicates that Dan Cupid is slipping.

Backs announced today that 220 licenses were issued during February which was five less than the total for the same month last year. In January the totals were 255 for 1930 and 265 for 1929. An examination of the records shows that there has been a regular decline in the number of licenses issued during the first two months since 1927. Other months, however, have shown increases.

In 1929, 3869 licenses were issued, a substantial increase over the total of 3548 for 1928.

ASK LIEN FOR WORK DONE ON CITRUS TREES

Seeking to enforce the provisions of the law relative to control of certain types of scale which are declared to be a public nuisance and provisions for destruction of which is made by law, an action has been filed in superior court by Orange county on a complaint for foreclosure of a lien against property in Fullerton townsite, in which John and Margaret Ortega, et al., are named as defendants.

The complaint alleges that an inspection of the property made by an inspector of the county agricultural department on Sept. 23, 1929, showed that citrus trees thereon were found to be infested with black and purple scale and that a notice was served by A. A. Brock, commissioner, on the defendants, as persons in charge of the premises, notifying them of the infestation and requiring them to eradicate or control the scale within a period of seven days from the date of the notice, which was filed on Oct. 4, 1929.

Failure of the defendants to take the prescribed action led to the work being done by the county on Dec. 2, 1929, at an expense of $71.35, which, as provided by law, becomes a lien on the property. The money was paid from the county general fund on Jan. 8, 1930, and a notice of lien on the property was filed with the recorder on January 25.

It is asked that the plaintiff have a lien in the sum of $71.35 plus certain expense items and that the property be sold to satisfy the lien.

2000 extra miles of Lubrication

New High Compression motor oil brings you 6 specific advantages over old type oils...

Available today at Union Oil Company stations or wherever you see the MOTORITE sign

Try it! Compare it! Use it exclusively!

MOTORITE is a remarkable new motor oil, developed after 4 years of constant scientific research, to meet the lubrication demands of our modern high compression motors.

According to tests on the OILMETER, an instrument accurate to the 1/4 wave length of light, MOTORITE is the slippest oil known. This super oiliness assures an ever-present, slippery lubricating film in the 1/100,000 inch space between the piston rings and cylinder walls of your high compression motor when the engine is hot.

Resists Dilution

Another advantage is that MOTORITE, solves the "dilution riddle" . . . long a puzzle to petroleum engineers. This achievement is explained by scientists as follows:

"In all cars varying small amounts of gasoline get by the pistons into the crankcase . . . especially at starting. MOTORITE has the property of 'giving up' this gasoline quickly in the form of vapor . . . without sacrificing the lubricating efficiency, or 'life' of the oil."

The eastern research institute that investigated this important point announces that "resistance to oil dilution" appears to be a natural property found in the carefully selected crudes used in the refining of MOTORITE. To you this means a thicker, tougher film of oil with correspondingly increased lubrication efficiency.

Variable Viscosity

And MOTORITE is equally efficient at all temperatures. At starting, when piston clearances are greatest, it is more viscous or thick. Then as the engine warms and the metal parts expand MOTORITE reduces its viscosity in just the proper ratio to assure 100% efficient lubrication.

Reduces Heat

A fourth advantage is its great capacity for giving up and carrying away heat. This feature assures cool bearings and is noticed particularly when traveling long distances at sustained high speeds.

No Hard Carbon

Carbon deposited by MOTORITE is soft and fluffy, much unlike the hard, gritty carbon common to most oils. Too, it deposits less carbon than any oil known heretofore. This means no clogged or sticky valves due to carbon . . . less wear on your high compression motor.

Free From Acid Forming Properties

Through special purification processes, MOTORITE is completely freed from acid forming properties that might tend to corrode the metal of your motor. Service tests indicate that cars using MOTORITE consistently require fewer engine repairs.

200 Miles Longer Life

These six advantages bring you more efficient lubrication, yet guarantee you longer service from your oil. Tests in the standard makes of automobiles prove that you can easily get 200 extra miles out of a crankcase full of MOTORITE. Now, with MOTORITE you can drain at 200 miles farther than you have been in the habit of doing.

25¢ a Quart

MOTORITE is available today at all Union Oil Company stations and at many other stations where you see the MOTORITE sign. Its cost is only 25¢ a quart.

Make a note on your dashboard sticker NOW to refill with MOTORITE the next time you drain your motor oil. Remember the name...MOTORITE.

Electric Control and 38 Tests Assure Uniformity

The control room at the Motorite refinery resembles the bridge of a battleship. Everything is electrically checked and operated. The human equation and chance for error has been removed.

In addition to this positive refining control, 38 specific tests and quality checks are made on the oil, starting first at the well as the crude rises from the ground and ending but a few hours before Motorite reaches your car.

You buy quality when you refill with MOTORITE.

The High Compression Twins

For ideal results in high compression motor, use this:

1. Lubricate with MOTORITE—the only motor oil built specifically for high compression cars.
2. Fuel with UNION ETHYL—the pioneer anti-knock gasoline.

Foremost authorities agree that this combination guarantees you maximum efficiency from your high compression car.

PINEY WOODS SINGERS ON AIR HERE TONIGHT

BY THE RADIO EDITOR

That group of noted colored vocalists from the Piney Woods school, in Mississippi, the Cotton Blossom Singers, will be presented over the air by KREG, official broadcasting station of The Register, between 10:30 and 11 o'clock tonight on what is expected to be the blue ribbon program of the night.

The Cotton Blossom Singers appear on the Pacific coast each year and sing before many noted gatherings, as well as over some of the largest broadcasting stations. The Singers also will appear over KREG at the same time Thursday night, their two programs coming through the courtesy of the Barr Lumber company.

A 15-minute studio program, starting at 4 o'clock, will open this evening's entertainment and will be followed, during the next 15 minutes, by the Radiatronic Manufacturing company's program, featuring a talk by Dr. Grover and banjo selections. The Children's Hour with Inez Moore will come in its usual place, from 4:30 to 5 o'clock, and this evening will feature a group of talented youngsters from the Santa Ana School of the Dance and Expression, of which Gertrude D. Stebbins is director. The Shoppers' Guide and musical program will be presented from 5 to 6 o'clock.

The Cambria Pines program will be offered from 6 to 6:15 and the 6:15 to 7 period will present Katherine Place and Jessie Johnson, vocalists, through the courtesy of the J. C. Penney company. The late news dispatches will be read between 7 and 7:15, at which time Dad Mitchell's old-time orchestra will take possession of the studio for a half-hour program. A popular studio program, from 7:45 to 8:15, will be followed by a half hour of string and vocal selections, presented the Doe and Ray, noted KREG duo.

Tonight's radio class in "Modern Writers" will be conducted by Mrs. Eleanor Northcross, instructor and dean of women in the Santa Ana Junior college, and will occupy the time from 8:45 to 9 o'clock. Lizetta Phillips will appear in a program of piano and song from 9 to 9:15 and the next 15 minutes will bring again that popular tenor, "Smilin' Eddie" Marble, KREG announcer and entertainer, in an all-request program.

The City of Santa Ana program will get under way at 9:30 and continue until 10:30. The Cotton Blossom Singers will close the night's entertainment with a group of selections from 10:30 to 11 o'clock.

Questions To Be Answered During Gardening Class

Questions and problems relative to gardening will be welcomed by Ada S. McFadden, member of the Santa Ana high school faculty, who conducts each Tuesday morning the KREG radio class in "Home Gardening."

Much interest has been aroused in the "Home Gardening" class, inasmuch as the lectures and references have been of great assistance to the thousands who each spring start their annual gardening efforts. Miss McFadden promises to answer any questions sent to her in care of Radio Station KREG and to discuss, during her class periods, the problems raised by her listeners.

The "Home Gardening" instructor will be on the air again at 8:30 tomorrow morning.

With rapid progress being made in the work of clearing away the debris which fell during the recent market crash, radio once again is firmly entrenched in the public's mind. As a household necessity, in the belief of D. E. Liggett, of the D. E. Liggett-Sleeper Radio Shop here—True, Liggett points out, several radio manufacturers are to be found in the Wall street debris, but the "victims" are not typical of the industry inasmuch as they represent, for the most part, organizations whose primary purpose in the radio field was to cash in on promotional stock deals. They "cash in," he says, "the Santa Ana dealer explains, but not in the manner they expected to—Liggett believes that the market crash, despite the havoc wrought in some

FRITCH SPEAKS OF HEALTHFUL CLIMATE HERE

The healthful living conditions as found along the Southern California Pacific coast, and especially in Orange county, were stressed last night by Dr. Wilson Fritch, speaking over KREG, "Voice of the Orange Empire," on the Dana Point program. Dr. Fritch's talk, in part, was as follows:

"A few years ago my attention was attracted to a statement of two Detroit physicians, at the national medical convention, who attributed the healthful conditions of Southern California largely to the unusual presence of ultra-violet rays due to the clear air of almost daily sunshine. It is found that clouds, dust, smoke, etc., obstruct most of these rays. The air coming over thousands of miles across the Pacific, in this dustless, smokeless region, is a fine conductor of the life-giving, stimulating rays.

"The purity and clearness of the air is the reason why there has been built on Mount Wilson, the largest telescope in the world and why astronomers are constructing a telescope twice as large to be mounted in this Southland. This region is recognized as pre-eminent in ultra-violet rays by the eminent authority, Dr. Arnold Lorand, of Austria, who says that the following places are rich in these rays: Some of the cities of the Riviera, places in southern Spain, some of the heights of the Alps, portions of Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico, Mexico and especially along the sea coast in Southern California. Here is a wealth beyond the power of gold and invention.

"In Dana Point I do most of my work on the porch in the sun, summer and winter; the exhilaration is marvelous in its effects upon body and mind. This stimulus is manifest in the Southern in the athletes, students and artists who are growing up, so verifying Aristotle when he said: 'The land that produces luscious fruits and beautiful flowers will also produce strong men and gracious women.'"

LIVESTOCK OUTLOOK IS GIVEN BY CORY

EDITOR'S NOTE: The full text of W. M. Cory's talk, delivered last night over KREG during the "Agricultural Service" program, will be given on the farm page of The Register next Saturday.

"The 1930 Livestock Outlook" was the topic of the address delivered over KREG, last night, by W. M. Cory, assistant to the Orange county farm advisor, speaking on the regular Monday night "Agricultural Service" program.

Cory's talk dwelt on all phases of the livestock industry and he told of conditions obtaining in reference to beef cattle, dairy stock, poultry, hogs and sheep. Adjustments of breeding plants alone cannot assure satisfactory profits, the farm expert declared, pointing out that reductions in cost, improvement in quality and efficiency in marketing are all important considerations.

"In a time of declining prices," Cory said, "present facilities should be operated to capacity without increasing the capital investment, such as new buildings or more land purchased, unless the unit cost is thereby reduced."

Greyhounds are perhaps the oldest known type of dog. Stone carvings dating back to about 4000 B. C. show figures of these graceful animals.

Quarters, did much to improve the radio industry, for it cleared the field of the promotional group to the distinct advantage of the buying public—Radio now is recognized as a necessity; the dealer asserts, and the public may continue to place the utmost confidence in sets of standard manufacture—

It Is Easy To End Fat

That is, in the right way, used by modern physicians. No abnormal exercise or diet, but help to a gland that is weak. The recent large reduction in excess fat has been largely due to that method.

This modern method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 22 years—millions of boxes of them. In almost every circle you can see the amazing change it brings. If over-fat, you owe yourself a trial of Marmola. Don't remain abnormal. All druggists supply Marmola at $1 a box. Each box states the formula and tells the reasons for results. Start growing thin; your friends have done, at once.

13 BASKETBALL PLAYERS VOTED
DON NUMERALS

Having played the required number of quarters, 13 basketball players and the manager of the Santa Ana junior college hoop team were recommended for letters today by Coach Bill Foote with the approval of the student executive board.

Foote gave a letter to virtually every man that was on the Don squad at the end of the season and a large number of players was able to earn monograms because of the many substitutions Coach Foote made in conference games.

The season record was as follows: Santa Ana, 26, Concordia A. C., 31; Santa Ana, 21, Concordia A. C., 35; Santa Ana, 25, L. A. Olympics, 19; Santa Ana, 31, Hawleys, 14; Santa Ana, 34, Los Angeles, 64; Santa Ana, 44, U. S. C. WILLING AND KIRKSEY
Last summer, in the amateur championship at Pebble Beach, Dr. Willing came close to the crown he has been battling for through years. His last painstaking effort was not quite good enough and Jimmy Johnston came through.

Morris Kirksey, the Stanford sprinter, time and again had Charley Paddock beaten-up to the last heartbreaking leap to the tape. In that instant when victory seemed sure, the flying Paddock would lunge past him to break the tape a winner.

"HACK" NEAR GLORY
"Hack" Wilson might have been the hero of the last world series, instead of the goat. A few minutes before he lost those fateful flies in the lowering sun, he had made one of the greatest catches I have ever seen when he raced far back in deep right center for a drive and took it after an amazing leap.

There are others—but the drama of these men's defeats remains a fresh memory.

TRAINING CAMP

With Early Clark, Bernie James and Walter Berger performing in sensational style, it looked as if McKee might make good his threat, observers said. "Red" Rollings arrived in camp yesterday.

BRADENTOWN, Fla., Mar. 4.—The St. Louis Cardinals may have been a little late to start their training camp activities than some of the other clubs, but they are certainly making up for lost time now. Two stiff workouts, a three hour session in the morning and a three or four hour period in the afternoon were on the books for today.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Mar. 4.—When "Rip" Collins, powerful Texan who pitches baseball for the St. Louis Browns, was observed watching practice from the sidelines it began to be whispered around that he was a holdout and hadn't signed his 1930 contract. These rumors were dispersed today when it was learned that "Rip" was kept out of practice because his trunk carrying his baseball shoes failed to arrive.

SAN ANTONIO, March 4.—Freddie Lindstrom, one of the New York Giants' "important" holdouts, was scheduled to arrive in camp today. He was said to have agreed to stick. Cold weather is interfering with the Giants' workouts but Manager McGraw was cheered today by a signed contract from Jack Scott.

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 4.—Glenn Wright, as predicted, today had the inside track in the race for the job of shortstop with the Brooklyn Robins. Gordon Slade, high priced menace of Wright, was relegated to the shortstop berth on the second day. Slade, however, had made a big impression with his fast fielding. The coast player is in "all perfect condition, due to toiling several weeks on the field at Stanford university."

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 4.—The Cardinals today announced that Lynn Nelson, rookie recruit from Kansas City, will be given the call in one of the exhibitions scheduled for Saturday and Sunday against the Los Angeles Angels.

AVAILON, Calif., March 4.—Manager Joe McCarthy of the Chicago Cubs today announced that Lynn Nelson, rookie recruit from Kansas City, will be given the call in one of the exhibitions scheduled for Saturday and Sunday against the Los Angeles Angels.

SAINT DIAMOND CANDIDATES IN FIRST PRACTICE

Baseball practice was in full swing at Santa Ana high school today as Coach Bill Foote looked over the 27 candidates that reported for practice yesterday afternoon.

Fortunately for Foote, a majority of the recruits are underclassmen, which will be good for next year although there are two lettermen to bolster up the team this term. The Saints have never been unusually strong in baseball but Foote can die up a good battery, the Saints should win some games this year.

Of the 27 candidates, only two are veterans, Captain Jimmie Hall, third baseman, and Al Rebohn, outfielder. Rebohn went join the squad until late in the season.

The complete roster follows: Lee Hamilton, Allan Kidder, Carol Gilmore, Charles Denio, Alfred Peterson, Garth Olsen, Joe Preininger, Hideo Higashi, Clarence Ewing, Max Busch, Earl Homan, Albert Manning, Bill Quon, Captain James Hall, Neal Thornhill, Elwood Lindley, Fred Bell, Verl Moyer, Rhodes Piney, Leo Gaspar, Alvin Rebohn, Harry Merchant, Gilbert Meisinger, Bruce Smith, Erving Tuttle, Gordon Rubins and Ernie Smith.

The junior college men also had their first practice but rains cut down the list. Those expected out today are Charles Andres, Herman Hoch, Leonard Nathand, Vernon Valentine, Orville Schuchardt, Melvin Beatty, Tim Wallace, Jack Dutton, "Ken" Tanaka, Elmer Whisler and Gerald Scott.

Gold And Flowers
Presented Pastor

ANAHEIM, March 4.—Many expressions of esteem and appreciation for the Rev. O. R. Schroeder, pastor, who has led the congregation of the Anaheim German Baptist church through five years of success, have been shown recently. The most recent tribute was extended him Sunday, when, on behalf of the congregation, August Stranske, senior deacon, formally presented the Rev. Mr. Schroeder with a purse of gold and a basket of flowers.

The Rev. Mr. Schroeder added a special touch to the occasion by choosing the identical subject used in his first sermon to the Anaheim church group five years ago, "Human Desire for a Divine Traveling Companion."

Other expressions of appreciation were shown recently when the Sunday school presented him with a basket of flowers and members of the choir serenaded him at his home at 310 South Lemon street. The Rev. Mr. Schroeder has given more than 30 years to the service in the ministry, coming to Anaheim from Cleveland, O.

Education, a committee has found that English children are becoming taller but on the average are not quite as heavy. The Board of Education reports that this increased height is due to health training that the children are receiving in school.

Real Value! That's the Reason for the Big Swing to ...CATERPILLAR
TRACTORS

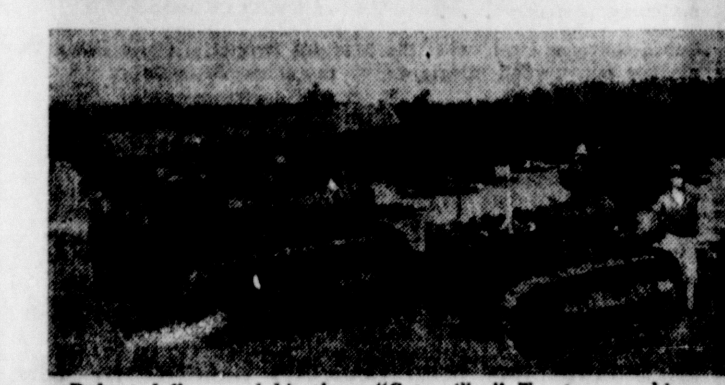

WHEN you can buy a "Caterpillar" Model Ten, that weighs 4500 pounds and that we guarantee to deliver more than 14 horsepower at the drawbar, for only $1185 on your place—when you can get a "Caterpillar" Model Fifteen, that weighs 5900 pounds and that we guarantee to deliver more than 21 horsepower at the drawbar, for only $1560 on your place—when other "Caterpillar" Models are proportionally low in price—and when more than 2200 owners in Los Angeles, Orange and Ventura Counties agree that "Caterpillar" Tractors don't pack the land—that they handle easier, ride more comfortably and cost less to maintain—

You are Sure of a Real Bargain

ALL "Caterpillar" Tractors are built with extra strength and extra efficiency throughout. All have THREE forward speeds, so you can always use the right speed for every job. All have high efficiency motors of the latest design with full force feed lubrication. Steering by finger tip controlled side clutches—one of the features that made "Caterpillar" famous—eliminates complicated, power-eating and often troublesome differential gears. Tracks and track wheels are made of heat treated, drop forged, alloy steel.

Distributor Gets 50% Less

As the world's largest distributors of "Caterpillar" Tractors we have 50% less margin than distributors of average tractors. "Caterpillar" puts the difference into the construction of the tractor itself. If you have a used tractor to trade we will allow you what it is worth, and will deliver to you the world's best built tractor at the lowest possible price. Don't be fooled by the man who offers you more for your old "job" than you know it is worth. Many tractors are originally priced with just that in view.

Continents:

We are operating three of your small tractors; the oldest is four years old, and I want to say this opportunity of telling you that these tractors have done their work very satisfactorily and more economical than I ever thought a tractor would operate. All of these tractors have their original number, and I can readily say that tractors on a "Caterpillar" tractor will last at least five years.

You have asked what I think of the biggest advantage of "Caterpillar" tractors—there are several. In the first place your service is such that a man need never be tied up more than an hour or so—in the second place the tractors give very little trouble from breakage and keep going under the hardest kind of work.

With our "Caterpillar" tractors we can get on the land several days sooner than we could with anything else, and best of all we are never troubled with broken parts. I believe growers all over the country are beginning to appreciate the serious disadvantages of land packing.

Your new "Ten", "Fifteen" and "Twenty" Models look very good to me. There is no question but that they are the best comfortable tractors to ride on and the easiest to steer. This makes a lot of difference, because any man who feels good will naturally do more and better work.

Yours very truly,
Robert Jeffery

"Caterpillar" Reputation Worth Millions

(That's Your Added Protection)

"CATERPILLAR," successor to "Holt" and "Best," is the world's largest builders of track-type tractors. All over the world "Caterpillar" Tractors enjoy an unequalled reputation. Sales everywhere are increasing by leaps and bounds—just as they are here. The "Caterpillar" company is mighty careful to guard this reputation by keeping quality up to the highest standards and by holding prices as low as possible.

SHEPHERD Super-Service

We maintain five plants in this territory for rendering superior service to "Caterpillar" users. Each of these plants has complete equipment and competent service men who know how to keep your "Caterpillar" in the pink of condition. This service is never more than an hour away from you when you own a "Caterpillar".

Late News From Orange County Communities

Three-Way Improvement For Arches Crossing Seen

STATE COUNTY CITY EXPECTED TO STAND COST

NEWPORT BEACH, March 4.—A three-way improvement at the Arches crossing of the Coast highway and Newport boulevard, participated in by the state of California, Orange county and the city of Newport Beach, which will eliminate the congestion of traffic at that point and the danger to motorists, is likely to become a fact, according to a report made by City Engineer R. L. Patterson to the city council last night.

The council appropriated $100 as the city's share of a fund for the preliminary expense of the project, which contemplates a grade separation at the crossing. The tentative plan provides for an improvement to cost $135,000, of which $65,000 would be paid by each of the three interested parties, the state, city and county.

Patterson was also authorized to have new trees planted on some of the streets in Corona del Mar, to take the place of some planted there two years ago. Some of the trees are progressing favorably, but others, which have not done so well, are to be replaced by other varieties. This is to be done at the expense of the contractors.

The council ordered plans and specifications for an ornamental lighting system on Main, Palm, Washington and other streets in Alhambra. Central avenue, between Alhambra and B streets, is also to have a new lighting system, under separate proceedings. The two systems are expected to give Balboa a "great white way" which will make the recreational center as bright by night as by day.

A letter was read from Louis W. Briggs, co-owner with J. A. Beck of Harbor Island in Newport bay, asking for information regarding the steps necessary to annex that island to the city. The owners are understood to have stated that they would favor annexation as soon as half of the island's 36 lots were sold, and this stage, it is reported, has been reached. The matter was referred to City Attorney Thompson and City Treasurer Gant for a report at the next meeting, which will be next Monday evening.

A request of the Women's Civic league that the city advertising fund be cut three cents and a park fund of three cents per $100 and a park commission be created was also laid over for a week. The advertising cut would require a vote of the people and a separate vote would have to be held on the park question. City Attorney Thompson said it was too late to hold such elections at the regular city election April 14.

New piling for the city piers was ordered. The council also passed a resolution opposing the obtaining of water by Long Beach from Orange county.

Petitions to annex two parcels of land owned by the city, but now outside the city limits, to the city, were found to be signed by a sufficient number of voters. It was reported by City Clerk Alfred Smith, and the proceedings were ordered to be carried through.

Petitions carrying 236 signatures were also received asking the city to dredge around Balboa island, and the city engineer was asked to make a report as to the probable cost.

The Beck tideland lease was ordered changed so as to allow its use for "their lawful purposes" as well as for "commerce and navigation." This had been already approved at the last meeting.

Two horses, employed by the city for some time but now no longer needed, owing to the city's departments having been motorized, were sold to the Newport

BEACH COUNCIL PREPARES FOR CITY ELECTION

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 4.—Councilmen in regular session at the council chambers in the city hall last night fixed the date of the municipal election for April 14, named election judges and clerks and ordered the city clerk to publish the call for the election. There are two city trustees to be elected, the terms of O. Ray Harris and J. W. Mitchell expiring. Both are candidates for re-election. No other candidates have officially announced themselves, although it is expected there will be other candidates in the field. Mitchell and Harris have served one term each.

The city trustees passed the pier bond ordinance and the clerk, C. R. Furr, was authorized to advertise for bids on the bond issue, the total amount of which is $122,000.

City Engineer Merwin Rosson announced that the "pier job" will take six months to complete but the present structure will be open all the time.

Max Schoenfeld, proprietor of the city's only junk yard, asked for a permit to move his junk yard to a location on the alley corner between Walnut and Ocean avenue on Third street. The matter was referred to the chief of police.

Agreement to lease the site for a baseball park at First and Ocean was received in writing from the Huntington Beach company. The matter was held up pending a conference with the baseball committee composed of Elson G. Conrad and O. Ray Harris with the baseball players relative to planning improvements for the park. They will report at the next meeting of the council March 17.

Reports from city officers were read, including a report from Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer.

Chief of Police C. D. Steward reported 43 arrests during the month of February and City Judge C. P. Patton reported $810 collected in fines of which $170 were traffic fines. Out of 37 cases tried all were convicted but five, which were dismissed.

R. A. Chaffee, who assesses this city for the county assessor, was appointed city assessor at wages of $4 a day and will make the assessment for city and county, visiting each household and business establishment. Mr. Chaffee has made the assessments here for years.

Purchase Of Fire Equipment Topic

TUSTIN, March 4.—Preparations for the coming city council election were made at the regular meeting of the Tustin city council last night. Following the regular routine of business, further discussion was held on the purchase of fire equipment for the city. This matter will again be brought up at the April election.

Two Membership Teams Convene

GARDEN GROVE, March 4.—The weekly meeting of the chamber of commerce membership team was held at Mason hall Monday noon. The Lenora exceeded the Bankers in securing new members for the past week. W. B. Marchant, C. C. Violett and J. G. Allen compose the team.

Twelve members of the committee were present.

Beach Boat Builders for $250, including harness.

Another amusement zone looms for the Fifteenth street section. A permit was asked to operate a miniature railway on beach frontage owned by private persons, one block on each side of Fifteenth, and leased by the persons making the request. This was also laid on the table until the next meeting.

A proposal to buy seven lots on Central avenue from the P. E. Land company, possibly as a city hall site, was referred to the finance committee.

REPORTS GIVEN AT SESSION OF BEACH C. OF C.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 4.—The Chamber of Commerce met at luncheon at the Golden Bear cafe Monday noon, with President Willis Osborn presiding. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and President Osborn called for reports from various committees. Dr. G. A. Shank made a report on the meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce.

C. W. Patrick made a report on the waste water disposal plant which is to take care of waste water from all the wells in the field. He stated that one of the proposed sites for the plant was on a tract of land owned by Standard Oil at Quincey and Hampshire streets, with an outlet on the beach or in the Santa Ana river, on the part of the beach that is planned as a state coast park. He protested the site as being in a residential district and the outlet as being objectionable to the use of the beach site as a state coast park. He also pointed out that the land owned by the Standard Oil is in a section of the city unrestricted as to oil drilling and that the city trustees might have difficulty in refusing a permit for the waste water disposal plant at that point.

As chairman of the committee he said the committee had no recommendation to make but decided to point out the objections to the site in the hope that it might influence the oil companies in planning industrial enterprises for the oil field, to confine them to the part of the field which was not desirable for residential purposes.

It was also pointed out by the speaker that the Jones Salt company wanted to erect a chemical plant near the waste water disposal plant and that there were already three outlets to the beach for waste water lines and any more outlets might be well confined to that section of the beach already in use for this purpose.

President Osborn asked for a report from his beach committee at the next meeting as to plans for the summer program at the beach.

COAST REGION STAGE SERVICE IS IMPROVED

NEWPORT BEACH, March 4.—Residents of the Newport harbor district are praising the new stage service on the Coast highway, inaugurated by the Pickwick Stages, also the Motor Transit stage service in the city and to Santa Ana and other points. The stages now run through, eliminating the transfer at San Juan Capistrano.

The increased service on the two lines was asked by the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce and other chambers along the coast, and all appear satisfied at the prospects for good service during the coming summer season, which they expect will be the greatest all-around season in the history of the "coast o' gold."

There are two through buses each way between San Francisco and Santa Monica, via Long Beach and Santa Monica, using the coast route all the way, and one additional each way between Los Angeles and Santa Monica, via Long Beach. These all stop at the Newport Beach station of the Southern Pacific and Pacific Electric, where connections are made with P. E. trains to and from Los Angeles.

In addition there are three local stages each way daily between Newport Beach and Laguna Beach, leaving here for Laguna at 9:15 a. m. and 2:45 and 7:40 p. m., and arriving from Laguna at 7:50 a. m. and 12:25 and 5:25 p. m.

PRO ARTE FOUR ON EBELL CLUB SERIES FRIDAY

This first week of March is an important one for members and friends of Santa Ana Ebell society, for it will be characterized by the third number on the International Artists Series program, the Pro Arte String quartet, which will be presented in concert Friday night, in the high school auditorium.

This quartet is composed of four talented Belgian musicians, noted as interpreters of the classics and as exponents of contemporary music. They are Messrs. Alphonse Onnou, Laurent Halleux, Germain Prevost and Robert Maas and are considered by musical critics as standing in the very front ranks of ensemble artists. Probably their rating in the musical world may be better understood when it is realized that fully a score of modern compositions have been dedicated to them by the composers themselves, and they include among these admiring friends artists of such fame as Goossens, Gruenberg, Ravel, Bartok, Castella and d'Indy.

When they were fellow students in the Brussels conservatory, the four musicians were wont to spend hours together reading string quartets. After their graduation, they formally organized the Pro Arte quartet and were preparing for their public appearance when the outbreak of the war called them to military service. After the armistice, they met again and went to Italy, where they worked for three years on repertoire. They made their debut as a quartet in Brussels, in 1921, and from that day they have known triumph after triumph.

They have played in every European country and their three tours of the United States have taken them to every section of this country. Critics without exception, have praised them for technical virtuosity, a perfection of tonal blending and a remarkable understanding of the works which they perform. All of which quickens the interest of music lovers generally in their Santa Ana appearance. The concert will begin at 8:15 Friday night, and tickets are on sale at the Santa Ana Book store.

RATING OF COUNTY SCHOOLS ADVANCES

The elementary school construction program now under way in Santa Ana probably will elevate Orange county from fifth to fourth place among the 58 counties of the state in the total value of its school buildings, it appeared today.

Without considering the construction now under way here, Orange county ranks fifth in the state, with Fresno county holding fourth place, according to a report from Sacramento. Fresno county's school building valuation is $10,503,375, while that of Orange county is $10,081,940, according to the report. Completion of the expansion program in Santa Ana will give Orange county schools a total valuation of $10,546,940.

The metropolitan counties of Los Angeles, San Francisco and Alameda lead the state. Kern, Santa Clara, San Diego and San Bernardino counties rank sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth, respectively, in school building valuation.

The pay of the soldiers and sailors of the United States is said to be the highest in the world.

BANK PURCHASE REVEALS FAITH IN PROSPERITY

According to Clifford Phillips, manager of the Southern California Company, Ltd., the recent acquisition by that concern of a substantial interest in the Citizens' bank of Laguna Beach is an indication of the management's faith in future prosperity of the beach town and Orange county.

Phillips said plans were under way for enlarging headquarters of the firm at Fifth and Bush streets here to take care of growing business, and new businesses for which the company is negotiating.

"The Southern California Company, Ltd., was incorporated to supply a need which exists in Orange county for a finance company with a broad charter that permits its engaging in any allied business or transaction that may be desirable and compatible with sound business principles," Phillips said.

The president of the concern is R. R. Carey, Laguna Beach capitalist, who plans to move to Santa Ana. Clyde Downing, Santa Ana attorney and director in the Commercial National bank, is vice-president. Phillips, engaged in the insurance and investment business here, is secretary and manager. E. Rockhill, cashier of the Commercial National bank, is treasurer. The directors include these officers and George Ray, J. O. Heath and L. R. Slonecker.

Clubs To Hold Joint Meeting

Members of the Santa Ana and Newport Beach Exchange clubs were reminded today by Gene Douglas, secretary of the club in this city, that the two organizations will stage a joint meeting at 8:30 p. m. tomorrow at the Santa Ana cafe, at which a turkey dinner will be featured. The session will take the place of the regular Tuesday noon meeting of the Santa Ana club.

The affair will follow a golf tournament in which teams representing the Santa Ana and Newport Beach clubs will meet at the Willowick Golf club.

TO TAX CREDITS AND SECURITIES

Carrying out a policy that has been in effect in Orange county for some time, but which many other counties in the state are inaugurating for the first time this year, County Assessor James Sleeper announced today that the two mill tax on intangible securities not backed by California real estate and the one mill tax on solvent credits would be enforced as usual this year. Operation of these taxes was a feature of the annual personal property assessment campaign, which began yesterday.

NO RABIES IN COUNTY SINCE FIRST OF YEAR

Orange county today is one of the whitest spots in California as far as rabies is concerned. While 94 cases have been reported in the state as a whole since January 1, not one case has been reported in Orange county. Rabies is a disease of animals which may be contracted by humans.

Although the disease is reported to be on the increase in the state as a whole, figures released by Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer, indicated today that a decline has taken place in this section. In 1928 reports of 17 cases were made to the health department. In 1929 seven cases were reported, and so far in 1930 the county has been free from the disease.

Every dog bite should be reported to the health department at once, however, and there should be no relaxation in efforts to keep the county free from rabies, Dr. Sutherland said.

According to Dr. Walter M. Dickie, state director of public health, there has been a relaxation in some sections in control of the disease and a great danger exists where this attitude is maintained.

Stocks, bonds and notes amounted to $4,141,610 in Orange county, and the solvent credits declarations amounted to $1,327,105.

TO OBSERVE GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Briney, 626 North Ross street, will celebrate their golden wedding Monday, March 10 when a number of friends and relatives have been bidden to a reception at their home during afternoon and evening hours. The Brineys were married in 1880 at Sidney, Iowa.

St. Anthony's Church Setting For Pretty Morning Wedding

At an impressive ceremony at St. Anthony's church at Gardena yesterday morning Miss Alpharetta Vardy, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Vardy, 409 South Franklin street, was married to Bernard Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Davis, 1336 South Birch street. The service was read by the Rev. Father P. A. Connelly, pastor of the church and formerly pastor of the St. Ann's Catholic church here.

The church was decorated with sweet peas in Dresden shades combined with ferns, making a charming setting for the wedding. The bride entered the church with her father who gave her in marriage. She was very lovely in eggshell satin princess gown with an uneven hem line and carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses. Her only ornament was a string of pearls given her by the bridegroom. The bride's long tulle veil was embroidered and was caught to her hair in a cap effect with orange blossoms.

Miss Pauline Hill of Costa Mesa, was the bridesmaid and was most charming in a frock of green taffeta. She carried pink sweet peas. Edward Vardy, brother of the bride, served Mr. Davis as best man.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Vardy home and last evening a delightful reception was held at the Knights of Columbus hall, a dance being enjoyed and supper served. Mrs. Vardy and Mrs. Davis presided at the refreshment tables. The lovely wedding cake was made by the bride's uncle, M. E. Taggart of Long Beach.

The bride was graduated from St. Matthew's School for Girls at Long Beach and has acted as bookkeeper at the Woolworth store here for the past three years. Mr. Davis was graduated from the St. Joseph's Catholic school of this city and is connected with the California Wire and Cable company of Orange.

Following a short honeymoon, the young people will return to this city where they are to make their home.

Present at the wedding and at the reception were Messrs. and Mesdames P. J. Rogers, Harry Kestier, B. J. Bell, T. G. Oakley, C. H. Landreth, H. Hackett, J. C. Rockas, J. McCollum, Martin Albers, C. India Described By Two Speakers at Section Meeting

The splendor and the splendor of India were told in a most fascinating way by Miss Preble Drake at a recent meeting of the Third Travel section of Ebell.

Miss Drake, who spent sometime in India not long ago, spoke especially of the great contrasts to be seen in Benares and Calcutta between the rich and the poor. There are 900 people to the square mile in India, Miss Drake said. While in Calcutta the Santa Ana woman visited the mission school for outcasts.

The botanical gardens in Calcutta, where there is an immense banyan tree under which 1000 persons may stand, were described by the speaker. In Benares, Miss Drake said, at the end of a day's outing, tourists are worn out by the honking of automobile horns, the incessant warnings being necessary to keep sacred cows and beggars from being run over.

There are 63,000,000 outcasts in the beautiful city of Benares, Miss Drake declared.

Mrs. J. Edmund Snow gave a bird's-eye view of the physical features of India. Mrs. Snow outlined the movement to help the outcasts in India by the Sikhs of this country. This sect have associations similar to the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. of this country and have built schools and hospitals for the outcasts, the speaker said.

Two songs of India were sung by Miss Laura Joiner. They were "Indian Starlight" and "Just in the Hush Before the Dawn."

During the afternoon a cablegram from Miss Gertrude Minor and Miss Lulu Minter was read. Guests present were Mesdames H. H. Burnett, J. T. Drake, G. M. Bascom, C. M. Rowland and Miss M. Young. Members present included Mesdames J. L. Andrus, C. D. Boy, C. N. Knox, C. E. Popular Football Star Weds School Girl In Arizona

Friends of Jack Fredericks, Santa Ana high school's noted fullback, were today awaiting details of his marriage to Miss Esther Huffman, having learned that the event took place in Arizona some time during the recent week end.

Fredericks, who has been an outstanding member of the Saints' football organization for the past two years, completed his high school course in February, and was one of the honor students of the year. His bride is also a student at the local high school. Fredericks left for Bakerfield about two weeks ago, and was employed in the oil field there, where he was joined late last week by Miss Huffman and her mother, Mrs. H. Stark, the three of them continuing to Arizona, presumably to Yuma, according to the belief of their friends, where the wedding ceremony took place.

Fredericks has received flattering offers from various universities, of work sufficient to pay his college expenses, as his football ability was widely recognized. But his final decision has been to remain in Santa Ana for the present and continue his studies at the junior college as preparation for a course in civil engineering.

CHURCH WOMEN SOCIETY THE HOME WEDDINGS FRATERNAL FASHIONS HOUSEHOLD

The WOMAN'S DAY- by ALLENE SUMNER

In this rapid age when everyone is trying to keep up with the Joneses, I think every mother could read to her advantage the article about Mrs. Millay, in the current Pictorial Review.

As the mother of three talented daughters, Edna, Norma, and Kathleen, each of whom has won distinction and achieved expression of her own way, one is interested in her idea on child training, how to be a trained nurse and a devoted mother at the same time.

We learn that the children had to learn to keep house, wash the dishes, sweep the floor and take care of themselves. Since this was as inevitable as sunrise and sunset, they accepted their labors and made games of them.

They lived in a little Maine village that did not offer great advantages, but Mrs. Millay somehow, in that amazing way that mothers have of getting what they want for their children, contrived to keep up payments on an installment piano, and saw to it that they had good books, flower gardens, and were in the midst of an enchanting natural scenery.

POVERTY UNDISGUISED

The thing Mrs. Millay lived for was to give the children the artistic advantages she had desired, but had not had, and out of her own frustration to make advantages for them. The hours she had with them in the evening were important for her and for them.

She was never too tired to listen to Norma play the piano, or read Edna or Kathleen's poems, to answer puzzling questions, or listen to long recitals of what the day had brought them. Mrs. Millay said:

"Let the girls realize their poverty. I let them realize what every advantage cost me in the effort to live. It made them live an honest life, and you don't fool yourself or your children."

"Take these same girls, and bring them up in comfort. Then what? Edna has said she would never have been what she is today if she had had everything. Our hard life made her write of the things she would never have seen in a sheltered existence. It made her a broad and real person before she left Camden. The rich child is the unfortunate one."

THE BETTER WAY

How much more dignity there is in such an attitude of honesty than that of the mother who crimps and saves to give her child finery, and all the material things that are infinitely less important to the child than to the mother.

How many times you have heard a mother say bitterly: "I don't want my daughter to know one thing about housekeeping. Then she won't have to do it all her life as I have. I'm going to see that she has what other girls have."

And one understands the attitude. But candy and knick-knacks, frilly dresses and gay ribbons are really so unimportant contrasted with the larger advantages—the ability to be great in the vital ways of emotional life and creative expression.

"I wouldn't have the nerve to advise any mother," said Mrs. Millay, "except perhaps to say, 'Never try to substitute one thing for another that a child may really want to do. I believe the aspirations of a child should never be fixed. Try to fix them and they never come true.'"

"The people who try to make children's careers for them have spoiled more lives than they have ever helped. Believe in your children utterly, and give them their chance. All else follows."

LARGEST SNAKE SKIN

NEW YORK, March 4.—The skin of what is said to be the largest snake ever killed on the American continent is at the New York Zoological park. It is the skin of a South American anaconda, 22 feet long and 3 feet wide. It was killed by a native on the River San Lorenzo in Brazil. It is dark olive in color, with round dark spots.

The MIXING BOWL by ANN MEREDITH

Getting Happiness Out of Daily Tasks

I wonder how many women who read this column will admit the fact that they are insensible to the delicate flavors in the food they cook?

I wish every woman would cook with each one of her five senses alert, and take joy in turning out an artistic venture, even if it is only beef stew! It is my contention that the drudgery is taken out of house work if we ENJOY what we are doing, and that mental and physical health are improved by this method.

Medical psychologists use this method in treatment; they dig down into the patient's personality to find traces of apparently lost talent, and then urge the renewal of such talents to give healthy exercise to slack, half-sick minds. None of us has got to the point where we need to be put in the hands of a physician, but I am quite sure that we would all be much happier were we to like our jobs, to do them in a taskworklike way, and to find satisfaction and beauty in the doing of the homely tasks which make up the housewife's day.

Scrub the kitchen floor to the best of your ability, make an extra fine pie or loaf of bread, then watch your reaction to the superlative doing of the task and you will get what I mean.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Sardine Raretbit

2 tablespoons butter
1 cup tomato catsup
1 small can tomato hot sauce
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Few drops of tabasco sauce
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
Salt and paprika to taste
2 boxes of boned, shredded sardines

6 slices thin toast, or crackers
Any kind of small fish in oil can be used nicely in this recipe... mackerel in oil fr instance.

Two cans of sardines and 6 full slices of toast should serve six people. Increase the tomato sauce and sardines if second helpings are wanted.

Melt the butter, blend with it the various seasonings and simmer for five minutes. Add the catsup and hot sauce and let the sauce come to a boil. Draw off the fire, add the shredded fish, cover and set over hot water to keep warm and develop flavor until ready to serve.

Make the toast just before serving to have very crisp and hot. Cut off the crusts, butter lightly and cut in triangles. Line a plat-

'SKY HAWK' SHOWS ONE MAN AIR RAID

"The Sky Hawk," a daring story of a man's comeback after he had been branded as a coward, and at the same time one of the most thrilling stories of the World War seen here recently, is now playing at the Fox-Broadway theater. The picture opened yesterday night, and plays through Thursday night.

Most of the scenes are shot in England during the time huge Zeppelins were bombing that city. A young lord is found in an aviation training camp, learning to fly. His highest ambition is to get to France and the battle front. At the camp he meets a girl—Helen Chandler—and falls in love with her. His commanding officer also loves the girl.

The youth is suddenly ordered to France the day before he is to marry the girl. Determined to see her once more, he steals a plane and, against orders, leaves. On his field to fly to her home, he is seriously injured. His legs are paralyzed and he is discharged from the service. Many believe he crashed purposely to avoid overseas service.

The girl returns his ring and he is confined to a wheel chair. How he comes back, wins a medal and the girl, is the climax that will keep the audience breathless. He stages a one-man air raid and wins out.

"Blotto," latest Laurel and Hardy comedy, a Pathe Sportlight, with dialogue, and a Fox Movietone newsreel also are shown.

TALBERT

TALBERT, March 4.—Two hundred persons, friends of Bob Harper, local merchant, came Saturday evening to attend the housewarming which he gave that evening in his new store building, which is being completed this week.

Miss Helm's four-piece orchestra of Huntington Beach, furnished music for dancing. Toward the close of the evening refreshments were served, the luncheon having been arranged by Mrs. Harper, assisted by Mrs. Arthur Glaser and Mrs. Allen Glaser.

Harper expects to occupy his new store by March 15.

DOLORES COSTELLO STARS AT WALKER

A remarkable cast interprets "Second Choice," the Warner Bros. and Vitaphone production which comes to Walker's State theater today, with Dolores Costello in the stellar role.

Miss Costello has, through the medium of the talking picture, supplemented her ethereal beauty by a voice of great charm. In "Second Choice" she sings the lovely theme song, "Life Can Be So Lonesome."

Chester Morris, Broadway star of the speaking stage, continues the remarkable work which made him an overnight sensation when he created his first talking screen role in "Alibi."

Jack Mulhall, First National star, was borrowed for the other principal male role, and effectively rounds out a trio who are seen in the story as the three points of the eternal triangle.

"Second Choice" is suffused with all the joy, conflict and suffering of youth. Story, cast and direction conspire to create a great evening's entertainment with the screen's most beautiful star.

CHILDREN FEATURED IN MARRIAGE DRAMA

"The Marriage Playground," Paramount all-talking picture of modern divorce and its relation to children of divorcees, continues its run at the Fox-West Coast theater today and tomorrow. The picture opened there Monday.

With Mary Brian and Frederic March in the leading roles, the picture is one of the most entertaining seen here in several months, due to the unique story. Six children are left by their rich parents to work out their own salvation. The parents are too busy fighting among themselves to worry with the children. Mary

Brian is the oldest of the children and she takes care of them, until March comes along, on his way to Switzerland to see his fiancée, and helps her. Most of the scenes are made at Lido.

Miss Brian never was better in a talkie, while March gives his usual good performance. Lilyan Tashman, Kay Francis and Huntley Gordon also have important roles.

The children in the show are the brightest seen in pictures. Their dialogue scenes are particularly good, while with this group of children sophisticated to the nth degree, clever lines regarding their mother and father flow freely as baby talk with most children.

The picture is highly entertaining. A little sophisticated and even daring in spots, it is a picture that will hit home in many families.

An all-talking comedy and a Fox Movietone newsreel also are shown.

Rubber consumption in foreign countries during 1929 showed a remarkable increase of 27 per cent, world production at the same time reaching the highest level in history.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

Up went the plane, just like a streak. The Tinymites could hardly speak. It seemed to take their breath away because it traveled fast. Of course it brought a trifling fright and each one hung on good and tight. 'Twas wonderful the way the ground below went whizzing past.

Woe Scouty had the steering wheel and shortly he exclaimed, "I feel just like a wondrous pilot. I can take us where I please. All I need do is give a swing to this big wheel. The crazy thing just makes the plane go here and there and does it all with ease."

"Well, please be careful," Copy cried. "Don't turn us over on our side. And, also, don't go too high up. I fear we might get lost. Let's just play safe and travel 'round, not too far up above the ground. Of course we want to have a lot of fun, at any cost."

Then Clowny broke right in. Said he, "I'll tell you frankly, as for me, I like this riding in the air as long as we don't flop. It's my suggestion that we take precautions so the plane won't break. My goodness, what would happen if we took a sudden drop?"

A few short moments after that brave Carpy almost lost his hat. "Oh, gee, the wind is blowing hard. I'll bet a storm will come. And, sure enough, at front and back the clouds closed in and grew real black. The plane sailed on real swiftly as the wind began to hum."

All of a sudden, right nearby, a big face formed right in the sky. "I am a wind cloud," it exclaimed. "Just watch how I can blow." The more it blew, the more it tried. The plane tipped almost on its side. "Oh, my, oh, my," cried Clowny. "Now I wonder where we'll go."

SHALL WE ABOLISH THE SUNDAY SCHOOL?

We are interested in the suggestion that has been made recently at a religious conference by a minister in good standing that the Sunday school be abolished. It is said that the Sunday school is responsible in large measure for Bible study and religious decadence in the home, that the home has abdicated its function in the matter of religious nurture and instruction to the Sunday school. The suggestion is somewhat startling. But coming from a minister in good standing it will not be easily dismissed.

As may be generally known, the Sunday school is a comparatively modern institution. In the last quarter of the eighteenth century one Robert Raikes gathered the children of the streets in Gloucester, England, who were neglected by the home, into a Sunday school to receive instruction in the Bible. The movement grew, until it finally was taken up by those who were in much more comfortable circumstances.
Its origin was much like that of the kindergarten, which was originally designed for children whose parents had to go out to work, and has now been taken up as a part of our educational system for all classes.

Before that time, the Bible was quite generally read in the home, and religious instruction was given at the mother's knee. This was supplemented by catechetical instruction, usually given by the minister. So far as we have been able to glean the facts, the religious nurture and instruction of the children were fairly well cared for under the old system. Besides, it had a wholesome reaction upon the parents in the home. All this has very much disappeared, and the Sunday school has hardly taken the place of it.

Religious education has come to be a pressing matter of discussion, and we are not surprised at the most radical suggestions that are being made. All is not well in that field. The home is certainly shirking its responsibility in the matter. Whether the abolition of the Sunday school would throw it back upon the home again might well be open to discussion. Our lives are very busy. There are many distractions. Methods that were used in a much less complex society are not applicable today. Yet there is the general feeling abroad that something needs to be done. The startling suggestion to abolish the Sunday school is a mark of profound dissatisfaction with our present system of religious nurture and instruction. It is to be hoped that some course will be devised to bring religious nurture and instruction to its primal place of importance.

Clarence Darrow says you can't get wisdom simply by growing old. But at least, Mr. Darrow, you begin finding out things you cannot eat.

DR. ADLER ON BRIDGE

Consoling news for those who do not play bridge comes from Dr. Alfred Adler, Viennese psychologist. He spoke to an audience at Columbia University the other day and at the close someone in the audience asked him what he thought of the individual who spent most of his time playing bridge.

"Most people play cards to waste time," he said. "Time, if a man is not courageous, is his greatest enemy. Bridge is a great invention. A little of it is relaxation. But a lot becomes a mental habit, an attempt to satisfy a striving for superiority. It offers an opportunity to conquer others.

"If you see a bridge player who has won, you will notice a nice expression of superiority on his face. Nobody can bear to appear weak or inferior, and the person who is more interested in himself than in others usually develops a complex," the psychologist asserted. "The superiority complex is only the mask with which the consciously inferior person conceals his weakness."

All those who shun bridge have their worst opinions about those who do play bridge confirmed. What Dr. Adler says about bridge, however, is also true of most other games and hobbies. We all of us like to be superior about something, or at least have confidence of being informed on some one or two things, it certainly saves the ego from annihilation, whether it is bridge, golf, literature, or international relations. One can't derive too much consolation from the inferiority complex of the invertebrate bridge player for doubtless the same complex prompts the rest of us to an uncommon interest in some other line.

The radio commission still seems to be up in the air about rights and privileges.

SURPLUS JAILS IN ENGLAND

The British Home Secretary, J. R. Clynes, reports a surplus of prisons and jails. There are only half as many in England now as there were a century ago and more than twenty-seven have been closed since 1911.

"We are able to pull down the prisons partly because we have fewer wrongdoers and partly because we keep the people out of such places unless it is absolutely necessary," said the Home Secretary.

The difference between the situation in England and the situation in the United States is so divergent as to warrant considerable study by the American people. One of the contributing factors has been pointed out repeatedly. It is the speed with which criminals are apprehended in England and the absolute surety and speed of their conviction. It has a wholesome deterrent on crime. Technicalities play a minor role in criminal procedure in England.

"TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY"

The cartoons under the above title which are appearing daily in the columns of The Register are well worth spending a few moments on daily. They make us realize the changes that are rapidly taking place in our national and social life. Twenty-five years is not much in a man's life as he looks back, but the details of the life of twenty-five years ago quickly fade out from memory. The "gay 90's" of which we have heard so much recently seem strange and curious to those of us who lived during those years, but they were quite commonplace while we were living through that period. We never thought we were making history, or that we were so curious, with long skirts and big garden hats and the like.

Still as we look over these cartoons we shall find that under the surface of things the same old problems were seething. We had a commission investigating the high cost of living in 1896, when eggs were selling at 16 cents a dozen, butter at 25 cents a pound, milk at 5 cents a quart; when we could get a fine pair of shoes for $3.50, and a custom-made suit of clothes for $30 or $35. The surface facts change, but the old problems, like the poor, are always with us. There is nothing more interesting than to see the life of an earlier day in which we shared being visualized as these cartoons that are appearing daily are doing for us.

Dr. Foedick says nothing beautiful came into human experience until people began to play. If the doctor is talking about certain musical instruments, we think he has gone too far.

D. H. LAWRENCE PASSES

News came this morning of the death of a noted British novelist, Mr. D. H. Lawrence.
Better known in England than in this country, he was regarded as one of the most powerful of the novelists who came into prominence shortly before the World war. An increasing number of people, in this country, are becoming acquainted with his works, and with his death there will undoubtedly be a wave of interest in his writings before posterity begins to put a stamp upon him.

"A BLAZE OF GLORY"

Mr. Channing Pollock sees the present theatrical season, in New York, winding up in a "blaze of glory." Speaking to members of the Episcopal Actors' Guild, he said:

"After a mighty poor start, in which vulgar presentations far out-numbered intelligent ones, the New York theatrical season is winding up in a blaze of glory."

It is most acceptable news, and Mr. Pollock's opinion is quite reliable.

California Did It

Imperial Valley Press
It took California hospitality and California climate to make the most reticent man in public life loosen up and ask that he be allowed to make a speech.

When Mr. Coolidge accepted the invitation of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce to attend its banquet, he did so with the implicit understanding that he would not be called upon to make a speech.

Nevertheless, when he attended after several days in California, during which hospitality had been lavished upon him, yet always considering first the wishes of himself and Mrs. Coolidge for informality, he not only made a speech but asked that he be allowed to do so, in order that he might express something of gratitude felt by him and his wife.

The former President's action was a complete surprise to all who knew him, but it was a most gracious act and in keeping with the character of the man.

Your New Englander is an odd sort. He often presents to the world a cold, austere appearance, that can only be described as a relic from the Puritan days. He doesn't know himself why he does it, for he is just as likeable a person as one will find in any part of the country. The strict code of the old New Englanders is handed down from generation to generation, though it is much more tolerant now than it was a couple of decades ago.

Mr. Coolidge was raised in an atmosphere that frowned upon the light and frivolous things of life.
His people from the earliest times have had a constant struggle to make a success of their farming business and as he himself has said in recent writtings their diversions were few and far between.

In spite of the heights to which he has risen, he never learned to lose the seriousness with which he would tackle anything, even a vacation.

All Californians are not light-hearted and gay, but generally speaking, the people of this state have learned to mix a good deal of pleasure in their daily lives. Being dropped into such an atmosphere, it is not odd that Mr. Coolidge thawed out.
He will have no regrets that he did not learn sooner, and if asked would probably say he would be content to live his life over again just as he has done. Perhaps he has enjoyed his experience out here even more than those who have made it such a pleasant affair.

And then who would not be transformed by the sudden transition from the cold, snow covered streets of Northampton, to the palm bedecked and flower laden streets of California? One has to know the rigors of many New England winters to be able to appreciate such a change.

Mr. Coolidge will not stay in California. He is too much a New Englander to forsake the land of his fathers. But it would be a safe bet that he will visit California again, having once tasted its delights, and it will not be strange if his visits are frequent. The California germ is a powerful one.

A Long-Lost Letter As a Handy Alibi

San Bernardino Sun
The other day, in the process of tearing down a building in St. Paul, a letter was found caught in the mail chute. It had been dropped 42 years ago. The paper was crumbling, but enough remained to show the date and the fact that the envelope contained a filled out return card giving directions for disposition of a shipment of lumber.
It seems to have been a routine business communication with no romance about it except its age. It does suggest, however, a good excuse to be used by those unfortunate mortals who are always forgetting to mail letters. When they post them a week late they can imply gently that the letter certainly has been mailed, and do you suppose it was caught in the mail chute?

Why "Coppers" Go Crazy!

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

SIC TRANSIT GLORIA MUNDI

It is said that because of psychoanalysis by modern historians the rising generation has lost all its heroes.

We fancied that George Washington
Was just about all right;
The bitter battles that he won
In many a sturdy fight,
The scorn for any sort of fuss
Or swagger that he had While President persuaded us
That George was quite a lad.
But now, too late, alas we see
That we were ill-advised;
His reputation blew when he Was psychoanalyzed.

Bright stars of history, unhid,
We worshipped in our youth,
As not so long ago we did
The marvelous Babe Ruth,
But now we fear that we've been wrong;
They may have little claim
To shine in history and song
Or make the roll of fame.
The glory they have been assigned
Will vanish at a touch
If psychoanalysis shall find
They don't amount to much.

So, one by one, our heroes fade,
And few remain at par
When every passing year they're made
To seem just what they are.
John Milton, Shakespeare, you and I Will swiftly be destroyed
When these deceiving sharps apply
The art of Dr. Freud.
Unless, before all glory dies
In shifting mental mists,
Some one shall psychoanalyze
The psychoanalysts.

The radio will remain. It is always less embarrassing to "Fundamentally Sound"

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

Business is fundamentally sound. It was sound last fall when the Doleful Prophets groaned that it wasn't. It is still sound, even when they twitter that it is.

Business is sound because a level-headed engineer, backed by level-headed doers, is making it sound.

Last fall, the Prophets of Disaster snivelled warnings.

"Tch! tch!" they said to Business. "You're going to be sick. Your margin of strength is terribly depleted. You can't go on at this rate. You're just getting by on your nerve."

Business responded curtly that it had never felt better in its life.

"That's just it," replied the Prophets, sadly. "You're too well. There's bound to be a reaction, and you'd better go to bed now, before you have to. You look well, of course. But it stands to reason no one could possibly be as well as you look.
Better sell out now and take a rest."

"Don't be idiotic," said Business coldly. "I have done more work this year than I've ever done before in my life. I'm eating well."

"Yes," groaned the Prophets. "Too much rich food. If you haven't sense enough to go on a diet, the Federal Reserve ought to cut down your rations for you. Apoplexy—that's what you're going to have. And after that, nervous exhaustion. You're a sick man. Better sell out."

Business has suffered a decline. But it is recovering. Its recovery is due, not to the reversible chirp of the Doleful Prophets, but to one thing and one thing only.

It has been given scientific "first aid"—a course of treatment prepared in advance for such cases. It is responding to work and wages—a treatment that is "fundamentally sound."

Thoughts On Modern Life

By Glenn Frank

FIVE LAMPS OF GOVERNMENT

Richard S. Childs is convinced that there are five simple steps that might lead us nearer to a workable democracy.

They are not new, but they are so obviously sensible. And the increasing difficulty the governments of our cities, our states, and our nation are finding in handling the ever more complicated problems of the time with an ever more inert and uninterested voting public makes them timely.

These five steps are:
First, the short ballot should be adopted.

We have to vote for so many men and so many measures that the average voter is at sea without rudder of information or compass of insight when he enters the polling booth. No wonder so many Americans "vote 'er straight". A British voter has to face a ballot that rarely carries more than one office on it. We Americans must often face sixty offices on one ballot.

Second, the offices that remain elective should be important enough really to arouse popular attention.

There is simply no sense in asking the masses to vote on a score of minor officials about whom popular interest simply cannot be stirred.

Third, the voting district should not be too big.
Mr. Childs points out that we are the only nation that elects from constituencies of over 100,000.
When the voting district is too big, the candidate must turn to the party machines if he expects at all to cover the ground.
When the size of a district passes a certain point, it plays directly into the hands of the machine.

Fourth, the government should be strongly unified.

Every political situation must and will have somewhere a strongly unified control. If this control is not exercised by the government itself, it will be exercised by party machines or personal bosses.

Fifth, the procedures of government should be visible, responsible, and straightforward.

The financial and administrative procedures of our governments are often as obscure to the average voter as a cross-word puzzle to an untrained man who has left his dictionary at the office.

This is a simple and sensible program.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

CREEPY STORIES

In the course of a child's reading he will come across some creepy stories that will, as the term indicates, make his skin creep. The healthy normal child will rather enjoy the creeps, but nevertheless he will have a moment or two of shakiness. The long dark hall will make him hater and take second thought, and he may ask somebody to go down cellar with him while he gets the apples.

No harm will come to the child unless he is in an excitable condition. Children who are recovering from a severe illness, children who have excitable temperaments, children who entertain fears, ought not to have creepy stories read to them before bedtime. They should have their ration of such tales in broad day light in the open air where neither ghost nor goblin can have so much as a hint of reality.

Should a child remember a creepy story just at bedtime and ask for a light, let him have the light and the added strength of your cheerful company up the dark stairway and down the long hall where the dancing shadows suggest uneasy spirits. Say nothing about the matter unless the child makes it necessary and then take it all as a matter of course, as fairy tales and ghost stories must be taken, after all.

When you have a story hour before bedtime and the children take to telling ghost stories, be on guard. When the story is ended turn on the lights full.
Change the mood by having a little bite of refreshments such as children like—crackers and apples, thin bread and butter and a cup of cocoa, or milk. Then start them singing. Good rollicking airs at first, then gradually slowing down until the mood is right for the beautiful evening song,

"Now the Day Is Over." Send them to bed in that mood and the creepy story will not do them the least harm. It is when they carry the mood of the ghost tale along with them to bed that nightmares come.

Shall we forbid ghost stories and the creepy tales? I am not in favor of forbidding children to hear stories, or to tell stories, that I know they are bound to hear, bound to read. All of us have an instinct for the terrible, the mysterious. Unless that appetite is satisfied and redirected, it will rise to annoy and trouble its victim endlessly.

The ration of creepy stories is very slight in proportion to the rest of the children's reading. One need do nothing to foster a taste for it. Just let it alone and be on hand to counteract any ill effect by redirecting the children's thoughts into more normal channels.

These tales belong to the children of early adolescent years.
They should have no place in the training of little children of tender years. The nursery stories ought to be graded according to the powers of the children. Any grisly items should be omitted for sensitive children lest their world be peopled with shadows of terror. But think any normal child can hear and read and enjoy Cock Robin, arrow and all.

THE CYCLOPS MYSTERY

On March 4, 1918, the U. S. collier Cyclops, whose disappearance with 300 human lives aboard has remained a mystery to the naval department, left the West Indies on its ill-fated voyage to this country.

One of the most baffling features connected with the mystery is that the ship, equipped though it was with a superior wireless, should have failed to send out one signal of distress. Another be-wondering fact is that no bottled messages or driftwood were ever found.

A theory was advanced that a German submarine had either sunk the vessel or towed it across the Atlantic to a German port where officers, crew and passengers were held prisoners. This was later disproved.

The most acceptable view to date was advanced by a navy man who declared that the ship buckled, broke in two, and sank almost immediately, an accident which later befell the Cyclops' sister ship, "Orion," almost sinking her.
